COUNCILMAN QUITS

Schooley at Same Time Pleads Not Guilty to Illegal Profit Charge

CLEVELAND, Feb. 23.—City Councilman Liston G. Schooley pleaded not guilty when arraigned ... criminal ... today on a charge that he illegally profited on a city purchase.

At the same time Schooley in a brief note to council announced his resignation.

As chairman of the city finance committee Schooley was instrumental in the adoption of a resolution by which the city bought two sites for playgrounds for $83,250. The Cleveland Real Estate board has appraised the land at an actual value of $44,016.

Law partners of Schooley testified that two purchases of ... currency ... amounting $18,000 and $14,000 were delivered to him. On the basis of this testimony Schooley and his son ... Thomas, Councilman Schooley, the younger Schooley and the latter's wife were present when the money was delivered.

The case bids fair to become one of the most momentous exposures in the history of Cleveland city government. Local newspapers are ... ing bitter denunciatory front page editorials and speculation is rife as to who will be the next indicted.

LIMA PYTHIANS TO PRESENT PLAY HERE

Historic Scene To Be Portrayed at Open Meeting of Marion Lodge

Lima lodge Knights of Pythias will be in Marion on next Friday night, Feb. 28, to present their Lincoln play, according to announcement last night at the weekly meeting of Marion lodge No. 402 held last night. The meeting next Friday night will be open to the public and in addition to the play by the Lima lodge, Canby lodge No. 51 will exemplify the lesson of friendship.

The play that will be given by the Lima lodge depicts the meeting of President Lincoln's cabinet at which time he presented a charter to officials of the Knights of Pythias order.

It was also announced at the meeting last night that members of 402 would attend the annual memorial services of the Knights of Pythias here which will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Reformed church with the Rev. Herbert F. Weckmeuller delivering the address. The committee that has been representing 402 in the plans for the services consists of Albert Kette, Wallace Linn and Kenneth Fields.

OUT FOR NEW MARK

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—Flying a specially constructed Stinson Detroiter plane, Eddie Stinson and Randolph G. Page hopped off here today for Bay City, Mich., where they will attempt to shatter the world's endurance record of 65½ hours now held by Germany.

If weather conditions are favorable Stinson and Page may take off tomorrow morning from the ice on Saginaw bay. It was planned to christen the plane the "Sally Sover..." this afternoon in honor of the daughter of W. J. Sovereign of Bay City, one of the sponsors of the proposed endurance flight.

Although the plane was built to carry 1,000 gallons of gasoline, tests were to be made today to see if ... load can be increased.

GIVES UP FAST

New Hampshire Man Partakes of Food; Village Grows Quiet

NEW HAMPSHIRE, Feb. 23.—Fred Conrad having partaken of food again after his alleged fast of 40 days, this little village which had basked in the limelight settled back today to its everyday life.

Caught in a network of publicity when young Conrad announced he would refuse food until his father had joined the church and the devils had been driven out of the village, the townsfolk today took exception to Conrad's views that "devils flourished here in numbers." Most of the populace showed their disgust of the whole affair by refusing to comment on it.

LINEMAN KILLED

NEWARK, Feb. 23.—Daniel Williams, 37, lineman for the Ohio Power Co., is dead here today from injuries sustained in a 40-foot fall from the top of a telephone pole.

Anne Morrow To Clip Wings of "Lone Eagle"

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 23.—Cupid will clip the wings of the Lone Eagle, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, it was learned authoritatively here today.

From a source close to the Morrow family it was learned that after his marriage to Anne Spencer Morrow, second daughter of American Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, Colonel Lindbergh will make no more oversea or other long distance flights.

This, it was said, has been agreed upon by the Lone Eagle in response to the ... wishes of the part of the Morrow family, including Miss Anne herself.

The news from the members of the Morrow family confirmed an inadvertent admission by the flying colonel to an International News Service reporter at Wichita, Kansas, that he intends to settle down after his marriage.

SEES FOREIGN AFFAIRS IN HAPPY STATE

President Coolidge Chooses Washington's Birthday as His Valedictory

REVIEWS PROGRESS

Executive, However, Declares for Policy of National Defense

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Calvin Coolidge retires from the presidency with the foreign affairs of the United States in more satisfactory shape than they have been for a quarter of a century.

This was Mr. Coolidge's valedictory spoken last night to the country over a nationwide radio hook-up. The president chose Washington's birthday as a fitting occasion for his last formal speech as chief executive.

The relations between the United States and other countries, he said, have rarely been in a more happy condition.

The uncertainties which have existed south of the Rio Grande have been very much relieved. Domestic disorders in Central America are being adjusted with a satisfaction that is almost universal. Even the mouths of those who would rather criticise us than have us do right have been stopped.

Our relations with South America are on the most satisfactory basis they have been for 25 years. On the far side of the Pacific our situation is equally satisfactory. We have no important unadjusted problem with the government of any European nation with the exception of Russia.

At the same time the president continued this government intends to keep up its naval strength.

We believe, he said, in a policy of national defense.

WARMER WEATHER SCHEDULED HERE

Old Man Winter Loosening Grip, Forecast Indicates

Old Man Winter, who has reigned supreme for the last few weeks, seems to be slipping in power.

The official weather forecast for the next 24 hours reads: Increasing cloudiness, not quite so cold tonight; Sunday cloudy and warmer.

While the temperature fell to five degrees above zero last night, by daylight it had climbed back to eight and kept right on rising until noon. The warmest reported yesterday afternoon was exactly at the freezing point.

One year ago yesterday the mercury registered 40 degrees for the warmest period during the day and 34 degrees for the coldest.

LEGISLATOR GIVES TALK HERE TODAY

Cookston Discusses Farm Legislation with Grange Members

Legislation now before the state general assembly which is of interest to farmers was to be discussed this afternoon by Horace W. Cookston, Marion county representative, at a meeting of legislative agents of county granges. The meeting was to be held in the common pleas court room.

Legislative agents representing all Marion county granges were to attend the meeting. S. P. ..., state legislative agent of the county Pomona grange, called the meeting.

BEATS TRAIN BUT SKIDS BACK AND LOSES LIFE

GREENVILLE, Feb. 23.—A freak accident today had claimed the life of Newton Landers, 35, here. Newton, unable to stop his car as he was approaching a grade crossing, managed to "beat the train." His car skidded into a telephone pole, however, turned around and careened into the passenger train. The accident occurred at the Cincinnati & Northern crossing here.

BUS SKIDS, UPSETS

LOGAN, Feb. 23.—A near calamity was averted at Haydenville, near here, yesterday afternoon when an Athens-Columbus bus skidded from the road and overturned. Only one of the 12 passengers was injured. Velma Garrison, Lancaster, suffered a cut above the eye and was resting at her home today.

COMMUNISM!

Worries St. Clairsville and Prosecutor Threatens Arrests

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Feb. 23.—Threats of arrest for the distribution of Communist literature which has ... for the past week were made today by Prosecutor M. ... McKelvey.

McKelvey said he would arrest the persons and seek their indictment on charges of criminal syndicalism.

County Superintendent of Schools George Lorge said he would appeal to Cleveland police regarding the possible source of letters in Cleveland.

The letters, it is said, preach the doctrine of Communism. Some of them were handed to school children, it was charged.

SECOND TORCH MURDER SEEN

Police Seek Couple Who Fled from Scene Just Before Body Is Found

CRANFORD, N. J., Feb. 23.—Another fiendish torch murder of a woman—the second within a year in the same locality—was revealed today in the fashionable suburban town of Cranford, near Elizabeth, N. J.

Her head pierced by a bullet and her gasoline-saturated clothing and body in flames, the latest victim in this atrocity of crimes was found lying in the snow at the side of Springfield avenue near Kenilworth boulevard.

The only identification clues are two diamond rings, a wedding ring and bridge work on the teeth. The woman who was in her thirties was well dressed.

Police have broadcast an alarm for the arrest of a man and a woman who sped away from the scene in a sedan ten minutes before.

Exactly one year and three days ago Miss Margaret Brown, governess for a ... family, met a similar death near Bernardsville, 17 miles from the scene of the latest torch slaying. Her head had been beaten in, her clothes soaked with gasoline and set afire. Mystery surrounding her horrible death has never been cleared up.

John Boyle, driver of a baking company wagon, was making his rounds of the exclusive neighborhood in Cranford ... o'clock this morning when he discovered the human torch at the roadside.

WETS, DRYS READY FOR ANOTHER BATTLE

Southerners Again To Attack Regime of Secretary of Treasury Mellon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Wets and drys marched to the congressional firing line again today for another battle in the house over the appropriation of more money for prohibition enforcement.

Southern drys prepared to make their last attack upon the regime of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon by ridiculing the new $2,744,000 supplementary estimate sent to congress by President Coolidge.

At the same time a drip ... wet joined both the southern dry and administration proposals and prepared to offer an amendment to vote an additional $250,000,000 for dry law enforcement. This amendment was to be offered by Representative La Guardia, Republican, of New York.

The second deficiency bill, replacing the first deficiency bill which was killed through differences of senate and house over the Harris extra $24,000,000 dry fund amendment, furnished the opportunity for another close quarters engagement over the Eighteenth amendment and its enforcement.

Administration leaders, after having sent the Harris amendment to conference on a vote of 240 to 141, were confident that they would ward off all efforts of Democrats to disturb the budget estimate of President Coolidge.

The $2,700,000 additional asked by Mr. Coolidge was construed as the administration's bid for a compromise on the $24,000,000 amendment.

LOOT TOLEDO STORE

TOLEDO, Feb. 23.—Thugs early today cracked the safe in the Teopas confectionery store here and escaped with $1,200 in loot. After "blowing" the safe the robbers are said to have gone into a back room of the store and then casually counted and split the loot. The sacks which held the money were found neatly piled on a counter.

RULING GIVEN AGAINST LOCAL ARMORY BOARD

Members Personally Responsible Under Copyright Law, Is Claim

OFFICIAL'S FINDING

Phonograph Music Played Without Permit, Complaint States

Members of a board of control of an armory who ... under their management entertainments in the armory building are personally responsible to third persons on account of such entertainment. This ruling was given in Columbus today by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman to Adjutant General A. W. Reynolds in connection with a claim that the board of control of the armory in Marion infringed copyrights on musical compositions.

It was charged that the board of control conducted a skating rink at the Marion armory where a phonograph was furnished and that the phonograph records reproduced copyrighted music without permission of the owners of these copyrights. A small admission fee was charged.

Bettman's Ruling

Bettman held that a public performance for profit where copyright music is reproduced by means of mechanical devices such as perforated music rolls, phonograph discs, records and the like constitutes an infringement of said copyrights unless permission is first procured for the reproduction of such music from the owners or owners of the copyrights ... their assignees or licensees.

I am of the opinion with reference to the situation at the Marion armory that if it be shown that copyrighted musical compositions have been reproduced by means of a phonograph for the entertainment of the patrons of the skating rink without permission of the owners of the copyright there is a liability for damages on account of such use and that liability under the circumstances rests on the individual members of the board of control of the armory.

Settlement Under Way

"I am informed that a proposition of settlement has been made," continued Bettman. "This is a private matter between the members of the board of control of the armory and the owners of the copyrights or their assignee or assignees."

The copyright law referred to is the one under provisions of which local restaurants and other public places were recently barred from operating radio sets without paying a national music association for the privilege. The law was vigorously assailed a ... days ago in a published article written by William Dowler, local music dealer and an officer of the Marion Musicians union.

KENTON BANK WILL BE OPENED FEB. 28

Reorganization of Savings Institution Effected, New President Says

KENTON, Feb. 23.—Doors of the Kenton Savings Bank and Trust Co., which were closed Nov. 6, following a run, will be reopened Feb. 28.

This was made known today by Adison C. ..., the new president of the bank, who said that a reorganization of the bank had been effected.

The bank was closed by order of the state banking department following discovery of frozen assets. The amount of the shortages was never made public.

KILLS MAN BECAUSE OF PRACTICAL JOKES

Ninth Murder Since First of Year in Stark County

CANTON, Feb. 23.—Arrested here today, Pete Musso, 42, admitted that he shot and killed Alexander Miller, 25, a mine electrician at the Edgefield mine near Waco, late yesterday.

Musso, a foreigner, said he became enraged at Miller and other men at the mine where he works after they had played practical jokes on him. He is the father of four children.

The killing is the ninth in Stark county since the first of the year and sets a new record for murders in such a short time. Eight murder cases are to be considered by the county grand jury when it convenes Monday.

3 KILLED, 17 HURT

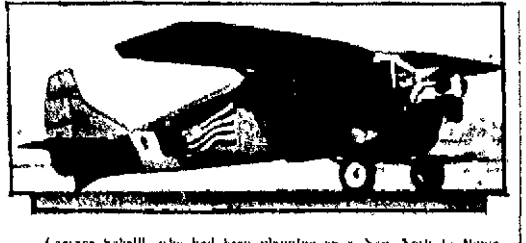
FLIGHT OFF; SEEKS DAMAGES



Caesare Sabelli, who had been planning on a New York to Rome flight, finds himself in the position of not having a plane to fly in. He is now suing the Bellanca company for $250,000, claiming that they took his plane when he only had $1,900 more to pay. He further states that he had spent thousands in money and effort arranging the flight and is losing the money which was to be paid by one passenger for the privilege of making the flight.

Marion at Midnight is Near "Deserted Village" Class, Reporter Reveals

Uptown Streets, Busy During Day, Traversed by Only Few Desultory Stragglers at Time "When Clock Is Striking the Hour", Flivver Race One of Few Activities

BY JAMES L. RESNICK

AT midnight the many hundred pounds of iron on top of the courthouse boom out 12 times, breaking the silence, the city's official signal that the night has reached the halfway mark.

And if Marion was not the fairly densely populated hamlet that it is, the midnight toll it off in ... something ... to the late Mr. Goldsmith's Deserted Village.

Two flivvers race out West Center st. A lone pedestrian balanced on the curb of Main and Center turns to watch them, then strolls down Main st. and ... The last ... buses have pulled out leaving ... or three stragglers ... in doubt ... while ... whether or not to go home.

In Winter's Cloak

A light ... is falling. The spire of St. Mary church is barely visible ... against the dark ... A freight ... chugs across the car tracks at the State st. crossing, making the only sound to break the stillness. Not more than a dozen people are in sight in any direction.

Two men still loafing ... the lobby of a hotel. Down West Center st. not a sign of life shows. The freight train is now passing the Union station.

A little place down West Center there are still signs of life. Lights gleam from a few restaurants and pool rooms. A bunch of young fellows spending their first night in Marion make their way toward the city building.

On ... night only is the edict ... as they are ...

When Milkmen Stir

As the hours drag ... more life seems to show as the milkmen start on their morning routes. Their horses plod along at steady pace, starting and stopping with scarcely a word from their drivers. They cross and ... streets without any ... the full bottles are placed in the front porch boxes and the empty ... rattle in the wire ...

The interests ... milkman require ... and ... They will talk on occasions but they will run as they talk.

"Sure, it's a tough life. See lots of funny things. Found a man sleeping in his car in front of his house the other morning. No he wasn't frozen, closed car and moderate night. Guess he had something inside him to keep warm." This is the comment of the milkman as he dashes in and out of houses.

However, they do stop to talk.

GEORGE SCHERTZER TO HEAD INSTITUTE

Elected President at Afternoon Session in Green Camp Today

George Schertzer was elected president of the Green Camp Farmers Institute at the afternoon session in Green Camp today.

Other officers elected were: Harold Hedges, vice president; Milton Roth, secretary, and Mrs. Ernest Morton, correspondent.

An executive committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Uncapher, Mr. and Mrs. Thoburn Carey and Ernest Morton was also elected.

William Stone and Mary Field Hendrick were the speakers for the Saturday afternoon session. Mr. Stone spoke on the subject, "Sum Up for the American Farmer," while Mrs. Hendrick used the subject, "What Dress Makes Us."

Music was furnished by Chester Graham, Milton Roth, Damon Carey and Gladys Belcher. A reading was given by Miss Martha Mae Flack.

Tonight at the closing session of the Institute a play will be presented by the Glad Hand Sunday School class of the Methodist church. The play is entitled, "Safety First." Music will be furnished by the orchestra.

The award of premiums will also be made at tonight's session.

HALDEMAN OFF ON CANADIAN-CUBA HOP

Flying Charted Course of 1,404 Miles Via Cincinnati, Atlanta and Tampa

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 23.—George W. Haldeman, pilot of Ruth Elder's ill-fated transatlantic attempt, took off from Walker airport near here today in an effort to achieve the as-yet-unaccomplished non stop flight from Canada to Cuba.

Haldeman, accompanied by James F. Hayden, a mechanic, left the ground in a Bellanca monoplane at 2:40 a. m. They expected to fly a charted course of 1,404 miles by way of Cincinnati, Atlanta and Tampa. Haldeman expressed confidence that their plane will swoop down on Columbia field, Havana, between 4 and 6 p. m. today.

The takeoff was made under unusual difficult "lifting" conditions. The Bellanca's wheels were buried to the hubs in the snow, an adverse wind was blowing and the mercury hovered near zero. Sixteen seconds were consumed from the time the wheels strained forward through the snow until the plane finally shot into the air.

ERIE OUTLINES IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM HERE

Marion To Share in Extensive Budget Expenditures Fixed for 1929

WILL ENLARGE YARDS

Work Here Likely To Reach $100,000, Budget for System Is $32,269,423

Improvements and enlargements which will involve expenditure totaling in the neighborhood of $100,000 are listed for the Erie yards in Marion this year in the 1929 budget program of the company just announced at the main offices in New York City. The total budget approved for the Erie system this year amounts to $32,269,423, according to a statement issued by L. C. Probert, vice president.

Program Here Outlined

The program for Marion as outlined in a summary of the budget reads as follows:

To provide an enlarged classification yard at the west end $55,000 is allowed. The west yard now has 10 classification tracks which are not sufficient to do the work without re-handling of cars. Some changes will be made this year which will provide a greater utilization of existing facilities and besides improving the service will reduce the cost.

"There will be some rearrangement of the eastbound manifest yard and floodlights will be installed at the westbound hump and at the eastbound yard.

Water lines will be arranged to make use of the new water treating plant at Marion and this is estimated to cost will up to $20,000.

Kenton Included

Kenton is also included in the improvement program, according to the official report which says:

"At Kenton, O., $15,000 will be expended extending the eastbound siding to 125 car capacity and about $9,000 will be expended extending the westbound siding to the same length.

"The extensive budget for the year has been approved by directors of the road on recommendation of President J. J. Bernet, under whose direction general improvements have been carried out in the last few years.

"The 1929 appropriation will be expended in carrying forward the program of equipping and rebuilding the Erie which was begun when President Bernet took office Jan. 1, 1927.

Reaches Huge Total

With the budget of $25,101,050 in 1927 and the budget of $27,781,753 in 1928, the 1929 improvement program will bring the total sum expended in three years up to $85,152,207 ...

VARE CASE SLATED FOR SENATE TODAY

Will Be Called by Senator Jim Reed on High Privilege

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The Vare case, an oil inquiry, a bait to withdraw the marines from Nicaragua, a battle against appropriating funds to build the navy's new cruisers and a couple of filibusters against measures combined today to make a real legislative jam in the senate.

The Vare case, in which the ... committee declared Senator-elect William S. Vare, Republican, of Pennsylvania, was "not entitled to a seat in the senate," was to be called up today by Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, as a matter of highest privilege.

If the committee demands Vare's immediate ousting, it will lead to a prolonged battle in the senate. Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, already has announced he opposed a final decision in the case until Vare has had an opportunity to appear in person before the senate. Senator Reed, Republican, of Pennsylvania, and Senator Moses, Republican, of New Hampshire, support King's position. Vare has been ill for a year and is in Florida now attempting to recover his health.

The oil inquiry was before the senate public lands committee which has been debating for two days, behind locked doors, the Nye resolution, calling for a further inquiry into the leasing of the Salt Creek government oil fields.

State Legislature Begins To Take Its Work Seriously

THREE MEASURES GO TO GOVERNOR COOPER

First Dry Measure To Pass Either Branch Approved by House

FIRST BILL DEFEATED

Lower Chamber Refuses Approval to Forney Measure, 28 New Bills Up

COLUMBUS, Feb 23—The Ohio legislature got down to work in earnest during the four days it was in session this week. The solons introduced 228 new bills making a total of 704 for the present session, put three measures through their final phases of legislative activity, and acted upon numerous committee reports

One house and two senate measures were put up to Gov Myers Y Cooper for his signature. The house bill, by Rep William Wendt Columbus reappropriates $2 536 0 0 for new buildings equipment and other improvements at various state institutions during the coming two years. The senate bills provide for readjustment of salaries of court constables and authorized the governor to convey clear title to certain lands in Athens county

Of the dozen bills which passed the house this week 10 were messaged to the senate. Ten of the 11 measures which passed the senate are up in the house for consideration. Senators introduced [illegible] of the [illegible] this week. The other [illegible] were thrown into the house hopper

House Defeats Bill

While the ministers failed to defeat a single measure this week the house refused to pass one, the Forney bill which sought to relieve railroads of the necessity of establishing gates or guards at grade crossings. The bill was defeated by a vote of 47 to 6[illegible]

The Carpenter bill, repealing the provision of the [illegible] which permits public utilities to [illegible] the state utilities commission to collect increased rates before the commission approves such rates, passed the senate

The senate passed and sent to the house the Ackerman bill providing for a division of public safety in the state department of commerce and authorizing establishment of a state highway police force

First Dry Measure

The first dry measure to pass either legislative branch this session is the Ross bill raising the penalty for selling or furnishing intoxicating liquor to minors. This bill which passed the house by a vote of 74 to 41 Thursday afternoon increases the fines for such an offense to from $1000 to $5000 and fixed the imprisonment at from one to five years in the penitentiary. The present law limits such fines to from $10 to $100 and imprisonment to from 10 to 30 days. The bill is up for consideration in the senate

Four Years Ago Senate Rebuked Dawes; Leaders Today Praise His Work

Now Regarded as Most Popular and Beloved Vice President Since Days of Tom Marshall, Senators Recall His Entrance on Duties

WASHINGTON, Feb 23 — Four years ago on his inauguration day Charles G Dawes entered upon the duties of the vice presidency with a blast against the senate and its rules that rocked that austere body to its vitals, shattered its dignity and drew down upon his own head a torrent of senatorial rebuke such as no presiding officer ever experienced

A week from Monday General Dawes leaves the vice presidency, acknowledged by both Republicans and Democrats to be the most or one of the most popular presiding officers the senate ever had. Only the late Tom Marshall compares with him in the personal affection and esteem of the senate

On the historic occasion of his inauguration General Dawes stole the spotlight of the whole day by his violent and unprecedented attack on the senate, its rules and its customs delivered within 30 minutes after he had taken the oath. He pounded the desk so hard the inkwells jumped about the dais

The senators and the distinguished guests that filled the chamber sat back in amazement

Then came the reaction. It was prompt and scathing. Members of his own party as well as the opposition denounced his attack and said of his speech that it was everything from clownish to acrobatic. And they added "We will show him." Only two senators approved his speech

Today the International News Service asked 10 senators selected at random for their opinion concerning Dawes' four year rule

Their comment today ranged alongside their comment of four years ago provides an interesting commentary on how General Dawes has overcome his inaugural slip. It follows

Senator Caraway, Arkansas Democrat

TODAY

He's the most popular vice president ever to sit in the chair. He is loved by every member and every employe of the senate. He will go out of office as the only vice president who was never reversed on a single ruling

FOUR YEARS AGO

"The best example of what a speech should not be was that of the vice president. He disclosed he was almost as lacking in his knowledge of senate rules as he was in good taste—almost but not quite

Senator King, Utah Democrat

TODAY

He has grown in the esteem of the senate and his departure will occasion profound regret. I regret he is to withdraw from public life as he is too important to remain in private life

FOUR YEARS AGO

The vice president has much to learn. This was fully demonstrated by his speech as well as by his conduct. His diatribe against the senate was as intemperate as it was unwarranted

Senator George, Georgia Democrat

TODAY

Vice President Dawes made more lasting friends in the senate than any other vice president in recent times. His business as a man and absolute candor made him revered and loved by the whole senate

FOUR YEARS AGO

The vice president defeated any change in senate rules by the brutal and clownish way he went about it. Here deliberation is necessary as a check against hasty and ill-considered action and to prevent executive domination

Senator Ashurst, Arizona Democrat

TODAY

General Dawes is one of the most capable presiding officers who ever wielded the senate gavel. He was courageous absolutely fair and he protected the rights of every senator. To know him intimately brings an increase of respect for his manly qualities and his real virtues"

FOUR YEARS AGO

It was the most acrobatic gymnastic speech I ever heard delivered from that particular rostrum

Senator Reed, Missouri Democrat

TODAY

He's made a good presiding officer and everybody likes him

FOUR YEARS AGO

His melody of voice, grace of gesture and majesty of presence were only excelled by his modesty

Senator Robinson, Arkansas Democrat

TODAY

The vice president is regarded by senators generally as among the ablest and most popular presiding officers the senate has ever known. His personality together with his grasp of public questions, secures for him a place in the front rank of the statesmen of our time

FOUR YEARS AGO

The ceremonies are necessarily formal. It is regrettable that they were made ridiculous

Senator Norris, Nebraska Republican

TODAY

"I'm not going to comment on him

FOUR YEARS AGO

"I have a comment on the vice president's speech but it is too strong for expression

Senator Smoot, Utah Republican

TODAY

General Dawes had made a reputation for himself before he was elected vice president and he certainly added honors for the way he has presided over the senate. Every senator here honors, respects and loves him

FOUR YEARS AGO

It would have been better if he had made the speech in some other place than in the senate. If there had been an opportunity for changing the rules I do not see any now

Senator Goff, West Virginia Republican

TODAY

"Everybody regrets the departure of Vice President Dawes. He has been an outstanding conspicuous figure in the last four years. His friends are legion and the senate adores, honors and respects him

FOUR YEARS AGO

"I think it was a constructive speech full of common sense

Senator Oddie, Nevada Republican

TODAY

The vice president has been fair, able and conscientious. He will go out with the genuine affection and respect of every member of the senate"

FOUR YEARS AGO

"It was a virile speech and shows he is full of fight—something the senate needs.

Theater Pests

BEFORE the advent of the Myrtl Ross pla ers at the Grand theater Marion was without the pleasure of enjoying the spoken stage except a rare intervals when a produ t on was put on here for one night.

It is still impossible to enjoy the spoken stage with certain types or in dividuals in the audience.

Sunda n ght t was necessary for Miss Ross to turn a ound and look at the offenders and [illegible] looks could mean anything Mr Sharpsteen s glare would have slain the offenders.

People who take time to spend an hour and a half in a theater naturally presume that their neighbors came to enjoy the show also Sunday this was not true

Two bo s in the front row and two boys and two girls in the th d and fourth rows were so d sturb ng that people around them were mor than willing to have them ejected from the theater

The boys we e young and undoubt edly felt it necessary to entertain the girl friends during the show and the girl friend felt it necessary to ap preciate the foolish asides with high falsetto shrieks or what they intended to be laughter

To the s x offenders their remarks were without a doubt the hit of the evening but to the disgusted outraged audience around them the only thought was of their conspicuous ill bred childish manners

Perhaps the pop corn fiends who in s st on munching with all the force of their molars during an nteresting and important line will also be more considerate of the ears of tho e seat ed around them

MAKE RECORD

Father and Son Have Not Missed Sunday School In 11 Years

A RECORD for attendance at Epworth M E Sunday school is believed to have been set by LaVerne Nash 10 years old and his father C O Nash Florence st.

For 11 years neither father nor son has missed one Sunday school service. Their vacations are arranged so that it will not be necessary for them to miss services at Epworth M E church and they have been fortunate in that sickness has not kept them away.

LaVerne Nash is enrolled in the John H Clark class and Mr Nash is a member of the Smart Bible class.

CONDUCTS SERVICE

Rev A P Nuckols Preaches at Emmanuel Baptist

The Rev A P Nuckols pastor of rural Baptist churches was in charge of revival services at Emmanuel Baptist church last night. The Rev S J Porter pastor of the church has preached at the services during the week. The Rev Mr Nuckols is the first guest revivalist of the church.

Because of the enthusiastic attendance at the revivals services at the church will probably continue longer than the time first set the Rev Mr Porter said today.

Tuesday Wednesday Thursday and Friday afternoons cottage prayer meetings are to be held in the homes of members. [illegible] services begin at [illegible] o'clock.

CHICKEN DINNER YIELDS CHURCH $60

The Rev G G Canfield pastor of the First Church of the Brethren announced today that the desired quota of $60 was raised at a chicken dinner given Thursday night from 5 to 7 o'clock at the church.

More than 100 plates were served. Money from the dinner will be turned into the district missionary [illegible] fund.

A SERMONETTE

BY THE REV HERBERT F WECKMUELLER

Pastor, First Reformed Church

IT isn't the [illegible] you earn [illegible] the [illegible] it is the service you render [illegible]

Your wealth may be [illegible] and [illegible] you [illegible] may be [illegible] form [illegible] inheritance [illegible] you [illegible] this [illegible].

Life may [illegible] and the burden [illegible] the task may be heavy [illegible] but the [illegible] the work and inspiration [illegible] the [illegible] render that counts.

The road we may be glad and the day drawn [illegible] the body [illegible] ready for repose. The hours of work may [illegible] drag, the comfort of rest be [illegible] but it is the service [illegible] that counts.

Some day the earthly shell we will fall and the [illegible] only morn will dawn and we will stand before the [illegible] of us all. The questions He will ask will not concern money or position or fame. [illegible] was there love in your heart and faith in your soul did you cherish the Christ and your fellowmen—for it's the service you rendered that counts.

Musical Numbers by John Lacey and Newman Browarsky Featured

John Lacey tenor and Newman Browarsky violinist, both leaders in Marion musical circles will broadcast Sunday from WCAH Columbus, Hotel Fort Hayes, as a part of the services of the International Bible school program to be given by the Marion class.

The last program of the class from this city was given several months ago with Mrs Florence Shaw Rutherford as the guest soloist.

Earl Willis Stewart member of the local class will speak during the services which begin at 1[illegible] o'clock on "Why Is Jesus Necessary for Acceptance With God."

The program announced will be as follows: John Lacey "The Spirit Flower" Campbell Tipton and "Kathleen Mavourneen" Old Irish Song. Newman Browarsky "Romance" H Wieniawski and "To Spring" from the concerto by Edvard Grieg. Lacey "Where'er You Walk" Handel. Browarsky "Ave Marie" Schubert Wilhelmj and "Rondino" Beethoven. Lacey "The Hills of Home" Oscar Fox, "Danny Boy" old Irish air. Lacey and Browarsky "For You Alone" Geehl. Mrs Helen Zuck Lacey will accompany Mr Lacey and Mr Browarsky at the piano.

CONVOY ADDS SEVEN RECRUITS TO CLASS

Capt Harry H May of the 14 convoy brought in seven new recruits last Sunday in the Men's Bible class membership contest and zeppelin race from New York to Paris which is being conducted at First Presbyterian church. If the seven recruits return Sunday they will be entitled to the large mileage allowed for new members who attend two Sundays and the 14-G will be far out at sea in another week. Several other recruits were brought in by members of other convoy crews last Sunday raising the total attendance of the class to 80.

CONTESTS HELD AT MEETING OF CLASS

Ellelis class of the United Brethren church met Thursday night at the home of Miss Donna Foraker Chestnut st with Miss Marie Bonecutter as assistant hostess. Following a short business meeting contests were enjoyed honors going to Miss Doris Gandert. Miss Vivian Shackelford was a guest of the class. Luncheon was served by the hostess. The date of the next meeting will be announced later.

Special Lenten Programs Given in Churches Here

Observance of the Lenten season from Feb 13 to March 30 is now under way in several Marion churches. Several of the ministers are observing the season with special mid week Lenten services to take the place of prayer services. The Rev G A Kanzler pastor of Salem Evangelical church will speak on "Victorious Love" Wednesday night as the subject for one of the series of Lenten services which he is conducting during the six weeks period. On this same program the Rev Alfred Wahl of Chattanooga O will address the congregation. The Rev Karl W Patow, pastor of Prospect Street M E church has also listed Lenten services Wednesday night on the church calendar for the week.

List of Suggestions

The Rev H H Weckmueller pastor of First Reformed church has listed the following Lenten suggestions in a church calendar which he compiled for his congregation from Feb 17 to Easter Sunday:

Give less time to the world and more to God.

Read the Bible daily and meditate upon its truths.

Practice daily by showing kindness and love to others.

Aim for 100 per cent attendance at the church services.

Endeavor to win at least one member for Christ and His church.

Make daily self-denial offerings and lay them upon God's altar on Easter.

Pray for your pastor for your fellow church members and for those outside the Christian church.

The theme chosen by the Rev Mr Weckmueller for his series of pre-Easter sermons is "What Shall I Do With Jesus."

Mission Service to Open

The coming church week will also arrange the first Italian mission services in the city, when [illegible] Giles Allas of St. Greg[illegible] Cincinnati comes here S[illegible] to conduct a mission at St. Mary's church. Services will be in Italian and English and will open at [illegible] o'clock each night through T[illegible]

TO NAME LEADERS

Election on Program at Epworth Intermediate Church Services

Election of class leaders will take place at the intermediate church services of Epworth M E church 10 to 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Last Sunday the stewards and trustees of the church were elected.

Membership cards will be distributed Sunday and a tablet of the charter will take place, recalling official the church was dedicated March 10.

A meeting to be held some [illegible] week will be announced Sunday. At this meeting committees for a [illegible] meeting [illegible] will be appointed and arrangements made for the [illegible] of the church.

ERIE IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE HERE

[illegible] ing the Erie road as a modern [illegible] transportation organization. On the line of the railroad between New York and Chicago, which includes Marion, there will be numerous enlargement and improvement facilities. [illegible] are to be constructed and enlarged for [illegible] [illegible] are to be installed for the [illegible] economies. New main track [illegible] plants are to be provided [illegible] Shop facilities and [illegible] are to be improved and ex [illegible].

Plans for Shops

One of the largest items in connection with the shop program is the construction of the shops at Susquehanna, Pa. In the improved unit [illegible] there all the passenger [illegible] work will be concentrated and shops now doing that work at [illegible] North Hawthorne and Kent [illegible] be abandoned as soon as the new Susquehanna shops are ready, which [illegible] expected to be some time later in [illegible] year.

The 1929 expenditures as listed in the budget announced today are [illegible] approximately as follows: New locomotives and cars, $11,[illegible]; new rail, ties, ballast and other maintenance and improvement [illegible] roadway, $[illegible]; transportation department, $0,891,000; grade [illegible] eliminations and other engineering, $718,882; maintenance of equipment, $1,00[illegible]; new marine equipment, $1,02[illegible].

Twenty more heavy fast freight locomotives of the same type which demonstrated such remarkable [illegible] for the fast movement of [illegible] freight trains with decided [illegible] economies will be added to the [illegible] operating—bringing the total [illegible] of [illegible] locomotives of this type up to 19[illegible]. These are the heaviest and fastest locomotives of their type in the world and are known [illegible] Berkshires. Fifteen heavy [illegible] engines will be added to the 75 [illegible] type placed in service last year, and 40 other locomotives will be reequipped with labor saving and efficiency improving devices which will greatly increase their capacity.

Twenty-five hundred modern [illegible] freight cars will be added to the equipment, which is replacing [illegible] equipment retired from service. [illegible] hundred of these will be steel [illegible] duty 40-foot box cars; [illegible] others will be all steel automobile [illegible]. Both types will be equipped with the latest style of extra [illegible]. One thousand steel hopper [illegible] of 70-tons capacity will be [illegible] for the transportation of coal and such bulk materials. The [illegible] also includes 500 steel low [illegible] gondola cars.

For the passenger service will be [illegible] 30 all steel suburban coaches of the latest type, 10 all steel [illegible] cars and five gas electric cars, the latter to be used in local service [illegible] replacing steam locomotive [illegible] on [illegible] runs.

ROTARIANS ARRANGE ANNIVERSARY EVENT

Special Program Set for Monday, Kiwanians To Hear College Man

Members of the Marion Rotary club will hold their anniversary stag meeting Monday night at Hotel Harding. The meeting will be in charge of Don A. Howard and will replace the weekly monday luncheon meeting.

The Marion club was formed seven years ago this month. An elaborate program is being prepared by Mr. Howard for the meeting, which will be informal. The annual election of directors for the club has been announced for Monday, April 4.

[illegible] R. Godfrey, director of athletics at Wittenberg college, Springfield, has been procured to speak at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday noon at the Marion club, at which meeting the Harding high school basketball team and coach will be the honor guest.

Mr. Godfrey was procured inasmuch as he has an interest in the Harding team as he coached A. J. Compton, present Harding mentor, in both high school and college.

SLACK MONTH

Only Five Building Permits on Record for February

With only four days remaining in the month to procure building permits it begins to look as though construction in the city is due for another black eye when compared with last year.

So far in February only five permits have been issued at the office of the city clerk. One of these five was issued this week.

Last year during February a total of 44 permits were issued at a total valuation of $9[illegible],600. The valuation on the five issued this year amount to about $4,[illegible]09.

Building in 1929 started off in a bad way when the permits for January ran behind the opening month of 1928 in number and close to $350,000 in valuation.

CONDITIONAL GRANT MADE TO ZEIGLER

New Evidence in Favor of Richwood Realty Agent Develops at Rehearing

O. J. Zeigler of Richwood has been conditionally reinstated as a real estate dealer by the state licensing board, it was stated today by Attorney J. Wilbur Jacoby, president of the board. Zeigler was [illegible] at [illegible] hearing of his case before the board in Columbus.

Conditional reinstatement of the Richwood real estate dealer places [illegible] as soon as the board [illegible] stated. Zeigler's license was suspended after a former hearing on a complaint growing out of a proposed transaction between Zenas [illegible] and Ira May Moore [illegible] Clarence Moor[illegible].

Restoration of Zeigler's license was based on additional evidence introduced in his favor at the rehearing.

Marion Case

Carl R. Haas and F. R. Mulvaine, Marion real estate dealers, have not yet been reinstated by the board according to Jacoby. Their licenses were recently revoked as a result of [illegible] by W[illegible] Wooster B. Dennis [illegible] and Harry Lewis of [illegible].

Haas will be reinstated when he complies with the terms of an agreement reached at a rehearing of his case here last Tuesday. Haas had not complied with the terms of the agreement today. Mulvaine will be at least temporarily reinstated when the agreement is fulfilled. He will again be called before the board in the near future however in regard to other matters which have been brought to the board's attention.

AUTO CRASH RESULTS IN SUIT FOR $50,000

Action Brought Against Marion Company and Employe

Erdin Arthur, 753 Henry st., has brought suit against the Commercial Steel Casting Co. and John F. Wise to collect damages of $50,000. The plaintiff's petition was filed in common pleas court today.

According to the petition the plaintiff was injured in an automobile which she claims was struck by another car owned by the casting company and driven by Wise. The accident occurred, the petition states, at the corner of Columbia st. and Olney av. on Nov. 27, 1928.

The plaintiff is represented by the law firm of Cittey & Cobb of Crestline.

Mrs. Northup was represented by Attorneys J. D. Williamson and W. [illegible] Mol[illegible]. Attorneys Edward C. King and Louis F. Myers represented Northup.

GAS BRIDE LATEST

Nebraska Couples Look on Kansas as Marriage Lid Goes On

BELLEVILLE, Kas.—The latest fad in this section is the gasoline bride, caused by the ten-day notice of marriage law in Nebraska, about 20 miles to the north.

As long as the law is in vogue Nebraska couples will look upon Kansas as a sort of marriage paradise, and the justices of peace along the state line stand a fair chance of doing office business.

A young Nebraska couple drove into Belleville from Wewcorn, Neb., recently. They stopped at a filling station and the young man in the case asked where the rest rooms were. He then escorted his queen out of the car and each entered a rest room.

A few minutes later they emerged, he clad in a black suit and she in a blushing bride costume. Then they asked where they could find the probate judge. The attendant supplied that information also.

On their return from the probate judge's office they again entered the rest rooms and came out clad in [illegible] clothes.

"Buy yourself some cigars," called the young man as he flipped a coin to the attendant and stepped on the starter.

WIFE IN JAIL FOR DEATH NOW BLAMES HUSBAND

ATLANTA, Ga. — Breaking a silence of five years, asserting her innocence and blaming her husband for the crime for which she is in prison, Mrs. Nora E. Duren, alleged murderess, has applied for a parole.

The woman declared in her petition that she accepted the blame for the murder of Ira James on the threat of violence by her husband. Since her conviction, she said, her husband has sold their joint property for his own benefit, and divorced her after she deeded the property to him in the belief that he would use it to procure her freedom.

when milkman meets milkman.

Caught the milk sniper yet, asks one as their paths cross.

"Not yet, but I know who he is," is the reply. "Gained two customers the other day." "So long."

A coupe with curtains drawn at sides and rear rolls on toward the business district.

Four men are seated in a restaurant, one hoping and the others regarding him seriously. Finally one lifts a glass of water and pours on his face. He grunts but makes no move.

Two trucks loaded with goods for Columbus or beyond rumble down the street. From far down the street comes a loud and unmusical whistle, some early bird going to work. A whirring sound as one of the city buses starts on its day's journey.

The street lights begin to dim as the dawn struggles through the low clouds.

Marion's night life is over.

MRS. BERKSHIRE, 34, DIES IN MANSFIELD

Former Local Resident Succumbs Few Days After Husband's Death

Mrs. Jay Charles Spencer [illegible] received word this morning of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ida Berkshire, 34, of Mansfield, formerly a resident of this city.

Mrs. Berkshire died last night after a four years' illness of lung trouble. She was the wife of John Berkshire, who died last Thursday and was buried here Saturday.

Before her marriage in this city Mrs. Berkshire was Miss Ida Walters of near Wheeling, W. Va. Mrs. Martha Walters of the Prospect pk. and Mrs. Edward Glumps, Oak st., are also sisters-in-law of Mrs. Berkshire.

Burial will be made in Marion cemetery Monday morning. Funeral services have not been arranged.

BODY BOBS OUT WHEN SKATERS BREAK ICE

WICHITA, Kas.—A two months suicide mystery has been solved near here. H. J. Osterman, 21, and William Woolshelf, 20, were skating on Little River when the ice gave away. After they had managed to clamber back to safety the swollen body of a man bobbed to the surface. Local firemen recovered the body and investigation revealed it to be that of Howard Jackson, negro youth who disappeared leaving a suicide note.

When Jackson's father was notified of the finding of his son's body he exhibited no emotion and merely said: "That's where he said we'd find him."

CHICAGO—Twenty-seven thousand persons were killed by automobiles in the United States in 1928, according to the National Safety Council. The deaths occurred in more than 600,000 automobile accidents.

The economic loss to the accidents will run close to $850,000,000, it is estimated.

SHECKLER NAMED TO FIRE MARSHAL POST

Will Cover District Comprising Crawford, Morrow, Richland, Ashland Counties

COLUMBUS, Feb. 23—Appointment of Jack Sheckler, Republican, as deputy state fire marshal for the district comprising Crawford, Morrow, Richland and Ashland counties was the announcement made here today by State Fire Marshal Ray R. Gill.

Gill, in making the announcement, said that Sheckler had been serving in that post since the beginning of the week, but that formal announcement was not to have been made until Monday.

About 15 other appointments of deputy marshals will be made from the governor's office at that time, he said.

As a deputy marshal Sheckler will receive $1,[illegible]0 per year and his expenses.

Gill said there was no reason for the withholding of the announcement except that he would have liked to have completed the entire list before making public the names of any appointees.

SUSPECT SLAIN IN BATTLE WITH POLICE

Another Dying as Result of Fight in Detroit "Blind Pig"

DETROIT, Feb. 23—Robert Norcott, Buh Evans, 43, a suspected dope peddler, was shot and killed by police here today and Joseph Costello, 25, an alleged Chicago gangster, was perhaps fatally wounded when the two suspects elected to "shoot it out" with Patrolmen Salvo Watson and Charles Coon in a reputed blind pig. Watson received a painful but not serious flesh wound in the battle.

The patrolmen said they entered looking for a stranger in front of the alleged liquor establishment. No weapons were found on the four who told the patrolmen that the men who had just entered the building had revolvers.

Watson and Coon had no sooner stepped inside the door when the pair began shooting at them from behind the cover of a stove in the centre of the room, they said. The officers returned the fire, their only target being the gunflashes in the early morning darkness. All four emptied their pistols at least twice. Finally the two gunmen slumped to the floor riddled with bullets. Evans died on the way to Receiving hospital.

FLAMES DAMAGE HOME ON HIGH ST.

Loss Estimated at $750 Caused by Fire at John Jolley Residence

Damage estimated at $750 was caused to the residence of John Jolley, 312 South High st., this noon when sparks set fire to the roof. Department No. 1 answered the alarm.

The blaze was discovered by a person walking by the house who notified the family. The rear end of the roof was in flames when the firemen arrived. About two-thirds of the roof was destroyed before the fire was extinguished.

A large amount of clothing and bed clothing stored in the attic was also destroyed. The loss is covered by insurance.

LEMON QUEEN JOLTS OHIO FINANCIERS

Civil Suit Filed Against Woman, Alleges Swindle Scheme

CINCINNATI, Feb. 23—An alleged swindle scheme masterfully executed by a woman known as the "lemon queen" and which came to light with the filing of a civil suit to recover $25,000 from the woman rocked Cincinnati's financial district today.

The amount lost by investors may reach a million dollars, a preliminary check-up has shown, and the systematic method under which the scheme progressed has led the victims to call the reputed head of the organization a female Ponzi. The scheme resembled the famous Boston Ponzi case in which many persons throughout the east lost money a few years ago.

The woman in the case is Mrs. Annie Calfo, the wife of an Italian fruit dealer here. She is now awaiting the action of the grand jury, charged in a warrant with the conversion of $25,000. The warrant and the suit was the action taken by an attorney here, Fyffe Chambers, who claimed he turned the money over to the woman on the ground that it would be used in buying carload lots of lemons. The transaction, the attorney contended, was to net a considerable profit. Instead of buying lemons the woman is alleged to have taken the money to wipe out debts.

AMERICAN ENGINEERS KIDNAPED AND SLAIN

Held for Ransom, but Killed When Bandits Learn of Federal Pursuit

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 23—With the arrival here today of the bodies of two American mining officials who were kidnaped and slain by Mexican bandits in Guanajuato, some details of the crime were learned.

The victims were J. M. Underwood and C. C. Anthrope, both connected with the Guanajuato Reduction and Mines Co. They were kidnaped on Feb. 20 from their mining property and held for ransom of 50,000 pesos, but were slain when the kidnapers learned that a detachment of federal troops was pursuing them.

The bodies of the two men were found by the troops at a camp the bandits had made in Cerro Hulloe, which they had apparently abandoned precipitately upon the approach of the soldiers. The authorities believe the outlaws were warned of the troops' advance by confederates.

The bodies of the two Americans lay among the scattered odds and ends of the camp just off the trail. They had been shot first and then stabbed.

This is the first case of abduction and murder of Americans in the bandit infested state of Guanajuato in a long period. The region is one of the most famous silver producing areas in the world and the Guanajuato Reduction and Mining Co. is the largest American enterprise in the vicinity.

Sunday on Church and Ministry.

The Rev William A Sunday the Billy of baseball fame has been engaged for several weeks in conducting a revival up in Elyria The Rev Billy may not call it that We believe his way of expressing it is to say that he leads sinners up the sawdust trail but be that as it may he has been driving a lot of wholesome facts home to the people of that city and its environs occasionally paying his respects to what he believes to be some of the shortcomings of the church and the ministry

Last Sunday was one of these occasions the Rev Billy expressing the belief that most preachers are failures because they preach nonsense and tommyrot—these are his terms and not ours—and think they have struck an improvement on the blood of Jesus

Now and then said the Rev Mr Sunday some man reads the Bible and gets an inkling of the truth He runs out and builds a church and starts another denomination to propagate his idea But he doesn't stop here He makes war upon all denominations that do not interpret or believe as he does

"I can count on my fingers however all the denominations that hold up the bleeding form of Jesus Christ as God's ultimatum for sin

So with one sweep I have eliminated ninety per cent of the churches of today and thrown them upon the ecclesiastical scrap heap where they belong

Is not Mr Sunday right in his sizing up of the present day church situation? Is he not well within the facts? If the reader has doubt let him look at the so called church announcement [illegible] the Sunday [illegible] of some big city's paper [illegible] him try a New York or Chicago paper The result will [illegible] prise him He will find [illegible] Sunday [illegible] conservative [illegible] church announcement [illegible] not one out of twenty of them and there will be many score of [illegible] will be found to be [illegible] announcement of the denominations with which he is familiar The [illegible] will be found to be representative of the dreams fancies dogmas superstitions isms and prejudices of some [illegible] described by the Rev Mr Sunday [illegible] limited followings

We can not say that we are strongly committed to Rev Mr Sunday's sometimes extreme manners and methods [illegible] there can be no denial that he is [illegible] and ever committed to the [illegible] and from such a teacher we get truths so [illegible] presented that they carry a weight [illegible] known to the utterances of a lot of the pulpit apologists.

Ending of a Great Experiment.

The sale of the [illegible] merchant lines of [illegible] In Chicago and New York investment bankers which brought [illegible] vessels sold by the United States shipping board from 1920 up to 1929 marks what is virtually the end of our government owned and operated merchant marine The Shipping board still has something like 600 vessels under its control from 250 to 300 of which now held in reserve will be offered for sale at once but the remainder will be operated by the board over the twenty three freight lines on which 230 are now being utilized until arrangements can be made for their sale to private interests under the terms of the merchant marine enactment of last year

Of the [illegible] 00 vessels constructed and taken over during and since the World war the cream is gone With the exception of two taken over from Germany all really valuable vessels have passed to other hands and all have gone for a song Those yet to be sold will go the same way and thus we can figure that the government is as good as out at least $3 000 000 000 on its great shipping experiment $250 000 000 of the sum representing the total of the government's operating losses since 1920

Like the great government venture as good as ended the venture of the Chapman interests into the merchant marine business will be an experiment It can not of course result in anything like the awful loss sustained by the government for the reason that the government expended over $3 000 000 000 for which it got no return a possible loss which the new owners will not have to face They have purchased the Leviathan the George Washington the America the Republic the President Harding and the President Roosevelt of the United States lines and the American Trader American Merchant American Banker American Farmer and American Shipper of the American Merchant line for far less than it would cost today to build the Leviathan alone The actual cash outlay of the Chapman purchase will be but a trifle over $1 000 000 and the government will loan them two thirds of the $36 000 000 cost of the two new 45 000 ton liners to be constructed to enable them to maintain with the Leviathan a weekly service If it is possible for any private interests to operate a fast fleet or fleets under the United States flag and overcome the handicap imposed by our laws on the operation of passenger vessels the purchasers of the two lines should be able to accomplish that most desired end

One very gratifying announcement made in connection with the change of ownership of the two lines is that made by Joseph L Sheedy formerly director of the European activities of the Merchant Fleet corporation who has been named as executive head of the company to operate the lines to the effect that the official personnel of the vessels will not be changed The same captains are to continue as their commanders and their staffs will be retained

Such has been the high reputation for seamanship and executive ability attained by a number of these captains in recent years and such the popularity attained by all of them that the fact that they are to continue in command should prove a big asset to the new management

The London subways carried 1 803 000 000 passengers in 1928 and now the city plans to enlarge them to serve five times the present population of the city And this too right in the face of the fact that such is the vibration caused by traffic that the town is falling down

Dr Alexander Meiklejohn of the University of Wisconsin says that the educational problem is whether or not the average run of American students can be educated and he holds that the present American colleges are coddling youth too much and aiding students where they should be placed on their own resources Is this not more or less true all the way up and down the educational line

The life of a Detroit woman bather who had gone beyond her depth and was being swept away by the current was saved by a St Petersburg fisherman down in Florida who made a cast hooked her and pulled her to shore That's not only a case of fine casting but presence of mind as well

The European corn borer quarantine line across Ohio for 1929 has been fixed at points averaging from twenty to thirty miles south of the 1928 line Of course the borers probably wouldn't have made any greater advance had there been no quarantine line but the boys have to be remembered no matter what the cost to the taxpayers

No Health Without Mineral.

BY ROYAL S COPELAND M D

Man can not thrive without a never failing supply of lime So important is this mineral to our physical welfare that doctors are harping more and more on the dangers of lime starvation Each of us must have fifteen grains of lime every day

How simple living would be if we could have the druggist weigh out for us and place in a capsule exactly the quantity of each mineral required by our ever changing bodies Then at the stroke of twelve or at some other convenient time we could swallow our daily ration take a couple of glasses of water and call it a day!

But living will never be so simple as this Henry Ford talks about the synthetic cow but the time will never come when foods as we now understand them will be forgotten We can not hope to have synthetic or artificial foods take the place of the familiar dishes of our dining tables

The lime from the quarry or lime kiln is not acceptable as a food While this particular mineral might be used to supplement the natural lime we get in our vegetables and milk it can not do for us what the organic lime is capable of accomplishing

One of the marvels of nature is that reaching down by the roots of plants and extracting from the soil the chemicals essential to their growth The cattle graze upon the grasses of the hill [illegible] into their bodies the mineral elements which are transferred by the chemistry of life into organic substances capable of sustaining the life of human beings Through the flesh and milk of these animals we get the lime and other substances which make possible our welfare and activities

Talk about gold and platinum diamonds and emeralds as precious metals or precious stones The lime and phosphorus iron and iodine the potash and all the rest—these are indeed the precious substances of Mother Earth! Without them man would be poor indeed and destined to almost immediate death

Of all the chemical elements of the human body lime is the most important We must have three times as much lime as all the other mineral substances combined It is said that the average person has in his tissues four or five pounds of lime Most of it is found in the bones and teeth a considerable part of it in the backbone if you are really worth your salt

The muscles owe their tone to the lime given them by the blood They could not work without it If you are soft and flabby weak and useless it may well be that your lime supply is not what it should be

Your heart's beating depends upon the lime in your system It is absolutely essential to your very existence

How are we to get an ample amount of lime?

Time does not permit a complete answer to this question Another day I shall go into this fully Let me say now that the main sources of the lime supply are milk and a milk product like cheese Green vegetables eggs the cereals dried beans and peas lean meat and nuts like almonds are rich in lime Apples and other fruits carry it

We must make sure to get our full supply of this precious substance

Editorial Opinion.

A PERILOUS EXPERIMENT

A grave danger which if not avoided eventually may demoralize the entire structure of workmen's compensation in Ohio is concealed in a bill introduced before the general assembly by Representative Will J Robinson of Stark county The measure is put forward as a bill to amend Section 1465 68 of the General Code Workmen's Compensation Act.

Under that apparently innocent title it is proposed to extend greatly the classification of individuals eligible to compensation for injury and to add to the compensation system already sufficiently intricate classes of disability due to disease or illness The import of the amendatory bill is carried in these words The term injury as used in this section and in the workmen's compensation act shall include any injury received in the course of employment or any disability caused by illness or disease arising out of or which is the result of the employment.

Not the unqualified use of the definition any injury Heretofore provisions of compensation laws have definitely and justly refused compensation for self inflicted injuries Under the all inclusive terms of the Robinson amendment self inflicted injuries are not excepted from compensation Hence if the amendment is approved in its present form any malingerer may inflict upon himself a series of minor injuries and live in comparative leisure at the expense of the state and of his fellow workers It appears that Mr Robinson either is grossly ill advised or has given too little care to the wording of his measure

An even greater potential danger to the efficiency of the compensation system lies in the clause which makes eligible for compensation individuals ill from any disability caused by illness or disease arising out of or which is the result of the employment

This clause if approved would immediately add to the intricate business of state compensation in Ohio the two vastly more intricate businesses of health insurance and disability insurance—all combined into one helplessly unwieldy bureau

The problem and desirability of health insurance were investigated in Ohio some ten years ago by a commission appointed by then Governor James M Cox The commission by a divided vote recommended some form of health insurance as a state venture There are fairly well developed European systems which might be studied Disability insurance is a new theory in state social organization

But the establishment of either a system of compensatory health insurance or of disability insurance is a vast task requiring the study and organization of an extensive bureau with no other duties to perform Assembly approval of a few evidently too aimless and ill-considered words which would assign both of these monumental tasks to an already busy bureau would be the height of folly The inevitable result would be the total breakdown from sheer complexity of the workmen's compensation system and an impossible turmoil that could not be settled for years

The bill is offered as a labor measure but it must be clear to all who are protected by the present compensation system as it is clear to the people of Ohio at large that the removal of all compensation limitations and the inclusion in the compensation bureau of these two huge and unfamiliar tasks could have only a disastrous end —Cincinnati Enquirer

CAPPERISM AND BRYANISM

The weakest of the many weak arguments with which the pacificists have rushed to the defense of the Capper resolution is that it is kin to William Jennings Bryan's famous denunciation of money loans by a neutral country to a belligerent The Great Commoner had a very hazy notion of what constitutes neutrality as he had of many other things Those who see in the Capper resolution any similarity to his pronouncement on loans are victims of the same flabbiness of mind Where he confused neutrality and total abstinence they confuse neutrality and passive [illegible] Where he denounced aid in any form to any belligerent they would deny it to one belligerent while supplying to the other all the arms and munitions he could pay for

The fatal and distinguishing feature of Senator Capper's resolution is that the embargo it proposes could not be laid until the United States had first declared one belligerent or the other the aggressor and thus itself had ceased to be neutral [illegible] can find any virtue in that proposal [illegible] unable to distinguish between the white of minding our own business in wars that do not concern us and the black of meddling in every [illegible] the future with no more exalted motive than [illegible] the [illegible] and one side will kill [illegible] men and [illegible] more women and children than [illegible] side does That's pacificism —Detroit Free Press

[illegible] a Manhattan legend that the old governor [illegible] Stuyvesant [illegible] was one of several who made caches in the earth for much of his gold None of it has been unearthed so far as is known but there are many who fare forth under cover of night with lantern and pick to find it

[illegible] body with the silver mounted wooden leg was placed in the family crypt [illegible] which he piously erected on his estate [illegible] and on the spot today occupied by St Mark's church and there [illegible] a stream of daily visitors to see his tombstone

The heirs of the high minded cavalier are thriving [illegible] are rich and have proved themselves worthy of their illustrious ancestor The name of Stuyvesant has always commanded respect—one of the most respected in Knickerbocker history Two hundred apartment houses shops, squares streets and cafes bear the name

He was the pioneer in what has now become known as the Thrift Movement in America He was stubbornly Dutch and would not permit any other language to be spoken in his household When the English invasion threatened his domain he retired to his peaceful bouwery—whence the Bowery got its name

There are historians who declare his defiance of the whole British nation was one of the bravest gestures in all history He had everything to lose and his sole gain was his loyalty to the unmovable conviction he was doing what was best for his people

In this radio bathtub jazz rhythmed hooch hipping age it is difficult to imagine that in Peter Stuyvesant's time it was considered ungodly to be on the streets after 8 o'clock at night or not be in bed at 9 o'clock

Waves in the Ether

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

In this day of radio wonders [illegible] that there are many people [illegible] no very clear conception of [illegible] wave theory I freely confess [illegible] deep for me —C S, Syracuse N [illegible]

The depth is deceptive [illegible] tree shaded pool of water [illegible] bottomless although in reality [illegible] inches deep Nothing is incom[illegible] science if you keep metaphysics [illegible] greatest of all deceptions is that [illegible] physician who thinks anybody [illegible] what he is talking about The [illegible] sublimest truth on the hook [illegible] lations but it is a route that he [illegible] on this side of Jordan

Physical science itself has to [illegible] assumptions which it can not [illegible] that the key seems to fit the [illegible] bottom of the universal radiation [illegible] holding science in its hug is a [illegible] that lately has taken two opposite [illegible] one the oldest it pictures the [illegible] containing a medium called [illegible] space which is filled with undulations [illegible] ducing effects on our senses known [illegible] heat etc

It is no more difficult to understand undulations or waves than it is [illegible] stand waves of sound in the air [illegible] tion of the means by which they are [illegible] inated may be more puzzling [illegible] is still busy upon the details of [illegible] But we need not now bother ourselves [illegible] it We may simply assume that [illegible] arise in and are transmitted through [illegible] ether Like sound waves they are of [illegible] lous lengths or frequencies of [illegible] Their great source in our solar system [illegible] sun But they may be set going by [illegible] means We may create ether waves by [illegible] ing on a lamp or by causing a shock [illegible] ether by interrupting an electric current [illegible] making an electric spark The light waves [illegible] general come from the sun The H[illegible] waves come from such shocks as those mentioned Lightning is akin to the [illegible] waves

The characteristic difference that [illegible] tinguishes the various forms of ether waves is their frequency or its correlative wave length It is the same with [illegible] waves although they are produced [illegible] terial mediums like air water or [illegible] stead of being conveyed by the ether [illegible] idea of octaves is applicable to both [illegible] sound the range of vibration from a [illegible] frequency to a frequency twice as great [illegible] called an octave So with ether waves [illegible] lustrated by those which produce the [illegible] of light The slowest vibrations that the [illegible] perceives are those of red light—say [illegible] 000 000 000 000 in a second The fastest [illegible] those of violet light—say 750 000 000 [illegible] 000 in a second That covers one o[illegible] The ear has a wider range since se[illegible] octaves of sound waves are perceptible But do not forget the essential difference [illegible] tween sound waves and other waves

Now Hertzian waves only vary from [illegible] waves by an enormous difference in [illegible] quency They are many times slower [illegible] therefore longer They also cover a twenty eight octaves instead of only one [illegible] longest light waves measure about the [illegible] 000th part of an inch the longest wireless Hertzian—waves are many miles in length and the shortest many feet although [illegible] are shorter Hertzian waves not used in [illegible] less than an inch in length

On the other side of the light waves frequency increases and the wave length [illegible] creases until in the recently discovered [illegible] mic rays we come to undulations reaching thousand billion billions per second [illegible] tween these and the light gamut [illegible] rays which are of immense frequency [illegible] still much slower than the cosmic [illegible] all these infinitely varied waves are [illegible] parently transmitted through space with and the same velocity, identical with [illegible] velocity of light

The mechanical management of the [illegible] zian waves in radio practice can not be [illegible] cussed here The important thing is to [illegible] member that in nature they do not [illegible] from light waves except in length and [illegible] quency and our being able to connect [illegible] up is no more mysterious than the [illegible] a boy to start a sound wave calculated [illegible] his soul with delight

Radio Prepared for Inauguration Program

FINAL PLANS UNDER WAY.

BY MAC L. ROY

SIT in your home with a ringside seat on the inauguration of erbert Hoover as president of the ited States in Washington March 4.

That covers in a few lines what will offered radio listeners by the two ding broadcasting systems of the untry, Columbia and the NBC.

Both systems are rapidly putting finishing touches to the final plans the handling of this event over the Miles of wire is being strung the national capital. Trained nouncers will be at the microphones the United States senate chamber along the line of march to give eners a vocal picture of the event.

The inaugural ceremony will be t through the air to potentially ery home in the United States. It also be sent on short wave length international consumption. The -hour program, beginning at 11 lock in the morning and ending at o'clock in the afternoon, will be the ambitious broadcast in radio hisy. The number of pick-ups, microes, announcers and air reporters will exceed those used in any event previously put on the air.

It will be a brilliant and impressive function indeed—the inauguration of the thirty-first president of the United States. The solemn moments on the capitol steps when President-elect Herbert Hoover is administered the oath of office; equally solemn moments in the senate chamber, when Vice President-elect Charles Curtis is sworn in with the new senators; then the lighter, gayer moods of the parade, with its bands, its troops in dress uniforms, its dignitaries, its flags and bunting. A gamut of color, action and thrills, with Washington, the city beautiful, as the background.

Microphones will tell the story to those who cannot be present to witness it. And to tell it faithfully they must do more than merely record the speeches and addresses and the shouts of the crowd. They must paint a mammoth canvas, throwing into colorful relief the central theme—the ceremony on the capitol steps.

It might have been just as well had Senator Robinson foregone reference to the inexcusable looting of Salt Creek field as a result of which it is estimated the government has lost $1 000 000 000 or more even though the persistence of Senator Walsh in seeking the adoption of his minority report attacking former Secretary Work and Assistant Attorney General Donovan for renewing the Sinclair contract may have justified his come back at the Democratic Wilson regime. Sunday on Church and Ministry

The Rev William A Sunday the Billy of baseball fame has been engaged for several weeks in conducting a revival up in Elyria. The Rev Billy may not call it that. We believe his way of expressing it is to say that he leads sinners up the sawdust trail but be that as it may he has been driving a lot of wholesome facts home to the people of that city and its environs occasionally paying his respects to what he believes to be some of the shortcomings of the church and the ministry

Last Sunday was one of these occasions the Rev Billy expressing the belief that most preachers are failures because they preach nonsense and tommyrot—these are his terms and not ours—and think they have struck an improvement on the blood of Jesus

Now and then said the Rev Mr Sunday some man reads the Bible and gets an inkling of the truth. He runs out and builds a church and starts another denomination to propagate his idea. But he doesn't stop there. He makes war upon all denominations that do not interpret or believe as he does

I can count on my fingers however all the denominations that hold up the bleeding form of Jesus Christ as God's ultimatum for sin

So with one sweep I have eliminated ninety per cent of the churches of today and thrown them upon the ecclesiastical scrap heap where they belong

Is not Mr Sunday right in his sizing up of the present day church situation? Is he not well within the facts? If the reader has doubts let him look up the so called church announcements in the Saturday issue of some big city's papers. Let him take a New York or Chicago paper. The result will surprise him. He will find the Sunday figure is conservative. Long columns of church announcements will greet his eye and not one out of twenty of them and there will be many scores of them will be found to be the announcement of the denominations with which he is familiar. The great mass will be found to be representative of the dreams, fancies, dogmas, superstitions, isms and prejudices of some such individual as to be described by Rev Mr Sunday and their limited followings

We can not say that we are seriously committed to Rev Mr Sunday's sometimes extreme manners and methods but there can be no denial that he is honest, fearless and ever committed to the right and from such a teacher we get truths so plainly presented that they carry a weight which is not known to the utterances of a lot of the pulpit apologists.

Ending of a Great Experiment.

The sale of the United States and American Merchant lines to P W Chapman [illegible] of Chicago and New York investment bankers which brought the total of vessels cleared by the United States shipping board since 1920 up to 1 000 marks what is practically the end of our government owned and operated merchant marine. The Shipping board still has something like 600 vessels under its control from [illegible]0 to 400 of which now held in reserve will be offered for sale at once but the remainder will be operated by the board over the twenty three freight lines on which 230 are now being utilized until arrangements can be made for their sale to private interests under the terms of the merchant marine enactment of last year

Of the 2 300 vessels constructed and taken over during and since the World war the cream is gone. With the exception of two taken over from Germany all really valuable vessels have passed to other hands and all have gone for a song. Those yet to be sold will go the same way and thus we can figure that the government is as good as out at least $3 000 000 000 on its great shipping experiment $250 000 000 of the sum representing the total of the government's operating losses since 1920

Like the great government venture as good as ended the venture of the Chapman interests into the merchant marine business will be an experiment. It can not of course result in anything like the awful loss sustained by the government for the reason that the government expended over $3 000 000 000 for which it got no return a possible loss which the new owners will not have to face. They have purchased the Leviathan the George Washington the America the Republic the President Harding and the President Roosevelt of the United States lines and the American Trader American Merchant American Banker American Farmer and American Shipper of the American Merchant line for far less than it would cost today to build the Leviathan alone. The actual cash outlay of the Chapman purchase will be but a trifle over $1 000 000 and the government will loan them two thirds of the $86 000 000 cost of the two new 45 000 ton liners to be constructed to enable them to maintain with the Leviathan a weekly service. If it is possible for any private interests to operate a fast fleet, or fleets under the United States flag and overcome the handicap imposed by our laws on the operation of passenger vessels the purchasers of the two lines should be able to accomplish that most desired end

One very gratifying announcement made in connection with the change of ownership of the two lines is that made by Joseph I Sheedy formerly director of the European activities of the Merchant Fleet corporation who has been named as executive head of the company to operate the lines to the effect that the official personnel of the vessels will not be changed. The same captains are to continue as their commanders and their staffs will be retained

Such has been the high reputation for seamanship and executive ability attained by a number of these captains in recent years and such the popularity attained by all of them that the fact that they are to continue in command should prove a big asset to the new management

The London subways carried 1 503 000 000 passengers in 1928 and now the city plans to enlarge them to serve five times the present population of the city. And this too right in the face of the fact that such is the vibration caused by traffic that the town is falling down

Dr Alexander Meiklejohn of the University of Wisconsin says that the educational problem is whether or not the average run of American students can be educated and he holds that the present American colleges are coddling youth too much and aiding students where they should be placed on their own resources. Is this not more or less true all the way up and down the educational line

The life of a Detroit woman bather who had gone beyond her depth and was being swept away by the current was saved by a St Petersburg fisherman down in Florida who made a cast hooked her and pulled her to shore. That's not only a case of fine casting but presence of mind as well

The European corn borer quarantine line across Ohio for 1929 has been fixed at points ranging from twenty to thirty miles south of the 1928 line. Of course the borers probably wouldn't have made any greater advance had there been no quarantine line but the boys have to be remembered no matter what the cost to the taxpayers

Colonel Charles A Lindbergh has accepted the position of technical adviser to the aeronautics branch of the department of commerce in which position his services which are to be [illegible] should prove of high value. There is some sense in thus making use of the colonel much more than there would be in asking him to be one [illegible] under secretary as was suggested

No Health Without Mineral.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND M. D.

Man can not thrive without a never failing supply of lime. So important is this mineral to our physical welfare that doctors are harping more and more on the dangers of lime starvation. Each of us must have fifteen grains of lime every day

How simple living would be if we could have the druggist weigh out for us and place in a capsule exactly the quantity of each mineral required by our ever-changing bodies. Then at the stroke of twelve or at some other convenient time we could swallow our daily ration, take a couple of glasses of water and call it a day!

But living will never be so simple as this. Henry Ford talks about the synthetic cow but the time will never come when foods as we now understand them will be forgotten. We can not hope to have synthetic or artificial foods take the place of the familiar dishes of our dining tables

The lime from the quarry or lime kiln is not acceptable as a food. While this particular mineral might be used to supplement the natural lime we get in our vegetables and milk it can not do for us what the organic lime is capable of accomplishing

One of the marvels of nature is that reaching down by the roots of plants and extracting from the soil the chemicals essential to their growth. The cattle graze upon the grasses of the hill taking into their bodies the mineral elements which are transferred by the chemistry of life into organic substance capable of sustaining the life of human beings. Through the flesh and milk of these animals we get the lime and other substances which make possible our welfare and activities

Talk about gold and platinum diamonds and emeralds as precious metals or precious stones. The lime and phosphorus iron and iodine the potash and all the rest—these are indeed the precious substances of Mother Earth! Without them man would be poor indeed and destined to the most immediate death

Of all the chemical elements of the human body lime is the most important. We must have three times as much lime as all the other mineral substances combined. It is said that the average person has in his tissues four or five pounds of lime. Most of it is found in the bones and teeth a considerable part of it in the backbone if you are really worth your salt!

The muscles owe their tone to the lime given them by the blood. They could not work without it. If you are soft and flabby weak and useless it may well be that your lime supply is not what it should be

Your heart's beating depends upon the lime in our system. It is absolutely essential to your very existence

How are we to get an ample amount of lime?

Time does not permit a complete answer to this question. Another day I shall go into this fully. Let me say now that the main sources of the lime supply are milk and a milk product like cheese. Green vegetables eggs the cereals dried beans and peas lean meat and nuts like almonds are rich in lime. Apples and other fruits carry it

We must make sure to get our full supply of this precious substance

Editorial Opinion

A PERILOUS EXPERIMENT

A grave danger which if not avoided eventually will demoralize the entire structure of workmen's compensation in Ohio is concealed in a bill introduced before the general assembly by Representative Will J Robinson of Stark county. The measure is put forward as a bill to amend Section 1465 68 of the General Code Workmen's Compensation Act.

Under that apparently innocent title it is proposed to extend greatly the classification of individuals eligible to compensation for injury and to add to the compensation system already sufficiently intricate classes of disability due to disease or illness. The import of the amendatory bill is carried in these words: The term injury as used in this section and in the workmen's compensation act shall include any injury received in the course of employment or any disability caused by illness or disease arising out of or which is the result of the employment.

Note the unqualified use of the definition any injury. Heretofore provisions of compensation laws have definitely and justly refused compensation for self inflicted injuries. Under the all inclusive terms of the Robinson amendment self inflicted injuries are not excepted from compensation. Hence if the amendment is approved in its present form any malingerer may inflict upon himself a series of minor injuries and live in comparative leisure at the expense of the state and of his fellow workers. It appears that Mr Robinson either is grossly ill advised or has given too little care to the wording of his measure

An even greater potential danger to the efficiency of the compensation system lies in the clause which makes eligible for compensation individuals ill from any disability caused by illness or disease arising out of or which is the result of the employment

This clause if approved would immediately add to the intricate business of state compensation in Ohio the two vastly more intricate businesses of health insurance and disability insurance—all combined into one helplessly unwieldy bureau

The problem and desirability of health insurance were investigated in Ohio some ten years ago by a commission appointed by then Governor James M Cox. The commission by a divided vote recommended some form of health insurance as a state venture. There are fairly well developed European systems which might be studied. Disability insurance is a new theory in state social organization

But the establishment of either a system of compensatory health insurance or of disability insurance is a vast task requiring the study and organization of an extensive bureau with no other duties to perform. Assembly approval of a few evidently too aimless and ill-considered words which would assign both of these monumental tasks to an already busy bureau would be the height of folly. The inevitable result would be the total breakdown from sheer complexity of the workmen's compensation system and an impossible turmoil that could not be settled for years

The bill is offered as a labor measure but it must be clear to all who are protected by the present compensation system as it is clear to the people of Ohio at large that the removal of all compensation limitations and the inclusion in the compensation bureau of these two huge and unfamiliar tasks could have only a disastrous end —Cincinnati Enquirer

The weakest of the many weak arguments with which the pacificists have rushed to the defense of the Capper resolution is that it is kin to William Jennings Bryan's famous denunciation of money loans by a neutral country to a belligerent. The Great Commoner had a very hazy notion of what constitutes neutrality as he had of many other things. Those who see in the Capper resolution any similarity to his pronouncement on loans are victims of the same flabbiness of mind. Where he confused neutrality and total abstinence they confuse neutrality and passive belligerency. Where he denounced aid in any form to any belligerent they would deny it to one belligerent while supplying to the other all the arms and munitions he could pay for

The firm and distinguishing feature of Senator Capper's resolution is that the embargo it proposes could not be laid until the United States had first declared one belligerent or the other the aggressor and thus itself had ceased to be neutral. Those who can find any virtue in that proposal are unable to distinguish between the white of minding our own business in wars that do not concern us and the black of meddling in every war the tune we with no more exalted motive than the hope that [illegible] our [illegible] one side will [illegible] and save more women and children than the other side does. That's pacificism.—De[illegible] Free Press

Anything Can Happen

A contemporary doubts whether it would be possible nowadays to compile a column of paragraphs without resorting to mention of Miss [illegible] [illegible] Bernard Shaw. Nonsense! We can remember when it wasn't considered [illegible] to write paragraphs without mentioning [illegible] dresses that button up the back, b[illegible] done.—Kansas City Star.

New York Day by Day.

BY O O McINTYRE

New York Feb [illegible]—There [illegible] gold [illegible] New York [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] deal in [illegible] lose [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] the finest of [illegible] [illegible] Manhattan [illegible] that [illegible] gov [illegible] day [illegible] he [illegible] has [illegible] there [illegible] forth under cover [illegible] high [illegible] to find it [illegible] with silver mounted [illegible] in the family [illegible] he ploughs [illegible] on [illegible] on the spot today [illegible] Mark's church and there is a [illegible] daily [illegible] to see his tomb [illegible] [illegible] mettled cavalier [illegible] rich and have proved [illegible] illustrious [illegible] Stuyvesant has always [illegible] one of the most re[illegible] Knickerbocker history. Two hundred [illegible] house shops squares streets and cafes bear the name

He was the pioneer in what has now become known as the Thrift Movement in America. He was stubbornly Dutch and would not permit any other language to be spoken in his household. When the English invaders [illegible] his domain he retired to his peaceful bouwerie—whence the Bowery got its name

There are historians who declare his defiance of the whole British nation was one of the bravest [illegible] in all history. He had everything to lose and his sole gain was his loyalty to the immovable conviction he was doing what was best for his people

In this radio [illegible] jazz rythmed hooch hipping age it is difficult to imagine that in Peter Stuyvesant's time it was considered ungodly to be on the streets after 8 o'clock at night or not be in bed at 9 o'clock

* * *

A parrot chained to a cross bar in a Sixth avenue bird store attracts crowds by screeching: What a life!

* * *

One wonders how the half dozen or so shooting galleries lined with penny slot machines manage to survive on Sixth avenue. They are open all day and night. Rents are fairly high and there is seldom a handful of customers in any. It is asserted the heaviest patronage is among gunmen intent on improving their marksmanship but that is likely gossip

* * *

Near a church in Bryant park a group of sandwich men gather every sundown after carrying the banner through the streets all day. They stand dumbly like sheep puffing at pipes and indulging monosyllabic mumbling. Then the bell wether detaches himself and all follow him toward the cheap lodging houses of the East Side—a despairing parade of a great city's thoroughly beaten

* * *

From the circular letter of a jewelry store: Would it be asking too much of our patrons seeking strands of perfectly matched pearls to make appointments at least two hours in advance?

I'm big that way. I'll make the sacrifice

* * *

And another pretty how have you been was noted in the reception room—just hanging around waiting a break—of one of those cafes charging $1 50 for a sprig of celery and four olives. A lady dripping with diamonds and other rare jewels left the dining room and was immediately flanked on either side by two gentlemen whose derbies and shoes were the unmistakable giveaway of the private detective. They escorted her to a waiting car took their places beside her and bowled away

* * *

In the same cafe was a regal lady at a table near the doorway who did not remove her long white kid gloves as she ate her dinner. Then there was a lady with not only one of those long colored handkerchiefs attached to her wrist but on the end of it was a tassel.—Copyright 1929 by the McNaught Syndicate Inc

Waves in the Ether

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

In this day of radio wonders [illegible] there are many p[illegible] no very clear conception of wave theory. I freely confess [illegible] deep for m[illegible] —C[illegible] Syracuse, N

The depth is deceptive [illegible] tree laded pool of water wh[illegible] bottomless although in reality [illegible] inches deep. Nothing is incom[illegible] of ence if you keep metaphysics [illegible] greatest of all deceptions is that [illegible] this can who thinks anybod[illegible] what he is talking about. There [illegible] sublime truth on the hook o[illegible] lations but it is a route that he c[illegible] on this side of Jordan

Physical science itself has to [illegible] assumptions which it can not [illegible] that the key seems to [illegible] the lock[illegible] bottom of the universal radiation [illegible] olding science in its hug is a [illegible] that lately has taken two oppo[illegible] one the oldest [illegible] pictures the u[illegible] containing a medium called the [illegible] space which is filled with undula[illegible] ducing effects on our senses know[illegible] heat, etc

It is no more difficult to under[illegible] undulations or waves than it is [illegible] stand waves of sound in the air [illegible] on of the means by which th[illegible] inated may be more puzzling [illegible] is still busy upon the details of t[illegible] But we need not now bother ou[illegible] it. We may simply assume that [illegible] arise in and are transmitted throu[illegible] ether like sound waves they [illegible] ious lengths or frequencies of [illegible] Their great source in our solar s[illegible] sun. But they may be set going [illegible] means. We may create ether waves [illegible] ing on a lamp or by causing a shock in [illegible] ether by interrupting an electric c[illegible] making an electric spark. The light waves general come from the sun. The Hertzi[illegible] waves come from such shocks as the[illegible] mentioned. Lightning is akin to the [illegible] waves

The characteristic difference tha[illegible] tinguishes the various forms of ether wa[illegible] is their frequency or its correlative [illegible] wave length. It is the same with [illegible] waves although they are produced [illegible] terial mediums like air water or a [illegible] stead of being conveyed by the othe[illegible] idea of octaves is applicable to both [illegible] ound the range of vibration from a [illegible] frequency to a frequency twice as gre[illegible] called an octave. So with ether wave[illegible] lustrated by those which produce the [illegible] or light. The slowest vibrations that [illegible] perceives are those of red light—say [illegible]000 000 000 000 in a second. The fa[illegible] those of violet light—say 750 000 000 000 in a second. That covers one oc[illegible] The ear has a wider range since [illegible] octaves of sound waves are perceptible [illegible] But do not forget the essential differenc[illegible] tween sound waves and ether waves

Now Hertzian waves only vary from li[illegible] waves by an enormous difference in [illegible] quency. They are many times slower a[illegible] therefore longer. They also cover abo[illegible] twenty eight octaves instead of only one. T[illegible] longest light waves measure about the [illegible] 000th part of an inch the longest wireless Hertzian—waves are many miles in leng[illegible] and the shortest many feet although the[illegible] are shorter Hertzian waves not [illegible] less less than an inch in length

On the other side of the light wa[illegible] frequency increases and the wave length d[illegible] creases until in the recently discovered co[illegible] mic rays we come to undulations re[illegible] thousand billion billions per second [illegible] tween these and the light gamma [illegible] rays which are of immense frequenc[illegible] still much slower than the cosmic [illegible] all these infinitely varied waves [illegible] parently transmitted through space wit[illegible] and the same velocity identical wit[illegible] velocity of light

The mechanical management of the He[illegible] zian waves in radio practice can not b[illegible] cussed here. The important thing [illegible] member that in nature they do not d[illegible] from light waves except in length and [illegible] quency and our being able to connect [illegible] up is no more mysterious than the [illegible] boy to start a sound wave calculat[illegible] his soul with delight

The Way of the World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

It is always tempting to be an extrem[illegible] If you take an extreme uncomprom[illegible] position you will attract more attentio[illegible] will get more fun out of life. For in[illegible] heredity scientists tell us is the [illegible] thing that determines the difference be[illegible] men. So one becomes an hereditarian [illegible] goes about proclaiming that environm[illegible] can't make any difference that environm[illegible] can't do anything for boy or girl [illegible] woman. That may make an intere[illegible] speech but undoubtedly the truth lie[illegible] tween the two. It is a situation for [illegible] promise. Heredity and environment [illegible] in to the making. The scientists [illegible] have the evidence to prove that heredit[illegible] the principal factor. There is no subs[illegible] for it but it is not a field for extremist[illegible] for radicals

No matter how much courage we hav[illegible] say we have there is no escaping the [illegible] that we live in a very real and prac[illegible] world. We live in a world where dre[illegible] things happen. We are subject to a [illegible] pains the disasters and the tragedies of [illegible] No amount of thought prayer or right [illegible] is going to save us from the opera[illegible] natural law. No amount of faith and [illegible] is going to keep some of us from g[illegible] drowned or run over by a motor ca[illegible] this is no reason why we should not [illegible] ward without fear. Fear only ma[illegible] miserable and does nothing to preven[illegible] aster or allay tragedy. Even if we kn[illegible] face tragedy an attitude of courage m[illegible] happier. There is nothing quite so good [illegible] so satisfying in all this life as jus[illegible] on in the sublime certainty that nothing [illegible] great to endure. If it is too great to e[illegible] it kills and that of course is comp[illegible] lief from the situation. Death at leas[illegible] vides an interesting change. And if we [illegible] in the high road of this world p[illegible] the best of our capacity we have e[illegible] to believe that death is a promotion

Meditations
OF A
Married Woman

—BY HELEN ROWLAND—

A Halo—Or a Wedding Ring

MY Daughter, every damsel must choose whether she shall adorn a pedestal and receive a man's admiration or relax upon a footstool and receive his attentions.

For lo, in theory a man admireth dignity in woman. But the one whose doorbell he ringeth most often is she that greeteth him with all the dignity of a playful puppy. For when he seeketh a playmate he yearneth not for a statue but for something that will unbend and romp around and put at his EASE.

Likewise, theoretically a man admireth reserve in a woman. Yet the damsel whose hearth he adorneth most often is she that welcometh him with all the reserve of a friendly fox terrier and maketh him feel at home.

Academically a man admireth a brilliant intellect in a woman. But she whose telephone number he taketh down most carefully is the one who talketh with her EYES and listeneth eloquently with her ears.

Go to! A man admireth orderliness and neatness and domestic efficiency in woman. Yet she in whose company he longeth to spend a restful evening is the careless person who permitteth him to lounge upon her sofa cushions and is not fussy concerning where he putteth his feet or flingeth his cigaret ashes.

Likewise a man admireth a woman with all the strength of her moral conviction. But she to whom he goeth for consolation in his hours of trouble and to whom he always returneth is the woman who can smile and forgive and who hearkeneth unto his weakest alibis with a relenting eye and a melting heart.

Yea verily a man admireth a fearless and capable damsel who can tramp beside him upon the long and arduous hike and help him stake a tent or bait a hook without fainting.

Yet she whom he inviteth to walk beside him to the altar is the tender and clinging soul who teetereth upon foolish French heels, stoppeth her ears at the firing of a gun and runneth at sight of a garter snake. For she needeth a strong man's protection. She awakeneth all his chivalry, and appealeth to his vanity!

Then take thy choice, my Daughter, whether thou wilt have a man's respect or his devotion, his homage or his confidences, his admiration or his attentions. For alas a man seldom bestoweth both a halo and a wedding ring upon the same woman!

ANNUAL TEA GIVEN BY CHURCH SOCIETY

The First Presbyterian church dining room was attractively decorated in patriotic colors and flags for the annual benefit tea given yesterday afternoon by What So Ever circle, King's Daughters. A report today showed that $70 had been cleared from the affair.

The large serving table was in red and white with flowers and candles as a centerpiece.

At 1:30 o'clock and at 4:30 o'clock musical programs were given for the pleasure of the guests. Members of several of the committees including the receiving line were in Colonial costume.

LODGE WOMEN GIVE WASHINGTON DINNER

Covers were placed for 21 at a Washington [illegible] dinner given last night at 6 o'clock in Masonic Temple by the Past Matrons Circle, Lydia Chapter No 83, Order of Eastern Star. Roll call responses were on Lincoln's life. Contests were held and a [illegible] was given by Mrs [illegible]. A regular meeting will be held March 22 at the temple.

CONCERT FEATURE

A new feature in the 30-voice male choir, the [illegible] club, which will sing at the Star Auditorium March 7, will be Harry Gilbert's "A Vision" [illegible] presented by the club. The number [illegible] with changing sequence [illegible] harmonic structure and will include solo passages by John F Lacey [illegible]. Miss [illegible] [illegible] who will appear as a guest pianist will feature several of her own compositions.

HAVE you done your verbal daily two dozen today?

There are those who avow that to [illegible] ours. [illegible] club puts you through your paces [illegible] tune of two [illegible]. Imagine [illegible] shivers that would [illegible] up and down the several backs of these club members if they [illegible] and the girl friend gushing to the one with the plush hair and the velvet eyes "I expect you will be buying a new car this spring." Feed the Birds

NOW is a good time to remember that all God's children haven't all they want to eat and toss an extra crumb to the birds. I haven't seen the first robin but I did hear a most wonderful bird singing courageously the coldest morning this week. I can not say whether he was singing for his breakfast or singing because he had just had his morning repast but I rather believe he had had it judging from the neighborhood in which he was located. There are plenty of the feathered tribe though that no one seems to care for and a look at the coal pile will readily convince one that we've had a long cold spell.

What's in a Name?

KREISLER might not have been such a marvelous violinist had his name been listed with the thousand and one Smiths or Jones and that one about the rose smelling just as fragrant might be the bunk but I am convinced that there is really something in a name. At the prize fight recently I was informed by the gentleman on my right that one of the seconds was an ex heavyweight champ and his name was Slaughter.

CLASS ENTERTAINED

Washington Birthday Dinner Given at Epworth Church

Seventy-three members and guests of Mrs J H King's Sunday School class of Epworth M E church enjoyed a Washington birthday dinner at 6 o'clock last night in the church dining room. The church was decorated with appointments in keeping with the season.

Mr Harry Hastings and Mrs Walter Pailer were a social committee in charge of plans for the dinner. Guests of the class were Dr and Mrs B L George, Mrs J B Rice of Owens, Miss Mary Helphrey, Miss Catherine Gelbaugh, Mrs Harry Ackerman, Mrs L N Hale, Miss Dorothy Strawser and Miss Pauline Zuchman.

The program in charge of Mrs Harry Hildbold opened with a piano duet by Mrs Loren Lawrence and Mrs H Kerr and Miss Pauline Zuchman and Mrs Mayme [illegible]. "The Misses Primroses' Deception," a playlet given by Mrs J B Rice, Mrs C F Livensparger, Mrs Anson Enderel, Mrs Emil Swaney and Mr Norris Crissinger, closed the program.

ARRANGE PROGRAM

Local Talent Appears on Galion Lecture Course Platform

GALION, Feb 23—The fifth number of the community lyceum course given Thursday night at the high school auditorium was interesting and novel as it presented for the first time local talent and several guest performers from nearby cities. The four preceding numbers of the course were given by regular lyceum course companies and the remaining one of the series will be the play "Quality Street" presented by the Drama Workshop Players.

Miss Leslie Todd, piano instructor of the Fine Arts department of the Galion school, arranged the program and was assisted by other local teachers. An enthusiastic audience attended and the numbers were well received.

MISSIONARY GROUP MEETS AT IBERIA

IBERIA, Feb 23 — The Ladies Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs Robert [illegible]. Devotionals were in charge of Mrs Olan LaRue and Mrs Orr Tracht. A chapter on "Friends of Africa" was given by Mrs Olan LaRue and a topic on "Women of [illegible]" was given by Mrs Kenneth Grooms. The next meeting will be with Mrs Maria Franks. Other members present were Mrs Homer [illegible], Mrs A T Craley and Mrs Henry Zimmerman.

There is no original sin. No matter how unusual it is, it has been thought of before by thousands.

Local Guest Singer on Musical Club Program

An interesting program furnished by members of the Marion Lecture-Recital club has been arranged and will be presented in the ball room of the Harding hotel Monday night. It will be the annual presentation of the club and one of the few to be given entirely by local talent.

The program will open with two numbers, "Serenade" by Charminade and "Warum" by Schuman, presented by a trio composed of Miss Clara Leffler, cello, Miss Margaret Hoover, violin and Mrs John Lacy, piano. John Lacy [illegible] with a solo [illegible] M Alvarez, followed [illegible] group, "Andante" by [illegible], "Melody" by Dawes [illegible].

[illegible] "Elijah" will [illegible] the solo sung by John [illegible] the fifth number on the [illegible] trio will present three numbers, "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni, "Moment Musical" by Schubert, "Cavatina" by Raff. John Lacy will conclude the program with a group of three solos, "The Rose [illegible] the Apple Tree" by Edward MacDowell, "Passing By" by [illegible] Purchell and "When I [illegible]" [illegible] Hanis by Frank LaForge.

ANNUAL BANQUET IS GIVEN FOR CHO

The annual banquet given [illegible] night at 6:30 o'clock by the La[illegible] society of Trinity Baptist church, the Trinity choir was attended by 35 members.

The Rev Lawrence A W[illegible], pastor of the church, addressed the party in a brief message. Dale [illegible]man, president of the choir, and a group of men from the organization gave a minstrel show. At the close of the social hour rehearsal for a musical program at the church March 3 was held.

is quite a terrible disease. It becomes most virulent about four hours before the great social event when La Belle Demoiselle has sent her party frock to the cleaners and is still waiting its return.

Of course the cure for being fidgety is to send the dress to Anthony's. Then you know it'll be back on time.

Harriet explained that the baron was round the other side of the circular gallery.

"I'll go to him. I feel quite ready for him," Mr. Robbington decided.

And he went.

"You'd better come too," Harriet murmured to Mr. Sutherland. "I might be needed." She laughed.

The baron was staring over the parapet. He had not quite ceased laughing at the spectacle of the voyage of Mr. Sutherland's hat. He turned sharply at the sound of Mr. Robbington's footsteps, and frowned because Mr. Robbington, whom he did not know and had never seen, evidently had the intention of addressing him, and the baron hated to be addressed by strangers.

"Have I the honor of speaking to Lord Furber?" Mr. Robbington ceremoniously inquired, again bowing and raising his hat.

"Ye have."

"My name is Robbington, and though personally unknown to your lordship, I am the Rome correspondent of the London Courier. An unfortunate thing has happened, and I have come to inform you. I was quite disturbed about it up to a couple of hours ago, but now I am strangely easy. The truth is that [illegible] has [illegible] me. [illegible] I am [illegible] hung. I may as well be hung for a sheep as for a lamb."

[illegible] Mr. Robbington's body [illegible] from his [illegible]

Mr. [illegible] and [illegible] Mr. [illegible] He quite [illegible] became [illegible] was [illegible] Mr. Robbington [illegible] and [illegible] until Lord Furber, facing Mr. Robbington, did not see [illegible] neither did he hear them. Moreover, they [illegible] had themselves [illegible] like Sir T[illegible] his [illegible] to watch Mal[illegible].

"I know what's happened," said Lord Furber. "Miss Perkins told you."

"Whether she has or [illegible] to do with [illegible] who told me."

"[illegible]," said Mr. Robbington, with surprising imperturbability. "Nothing to do with me. But it might have been Miss Perkins. I'm sure she told you much more concisely than I should have done. I'm apt to be a little long winded, especially when I'm excited. Well, Lord Furber, the first thing I want to say is that I resign my post on the staff of that [illegible] sensational rag, or [illegible] newspaper. [illegible] shall never be able to say that I was dismissed. I am [illegible] from doing something which in calmer moments you might regret."

He drew down the corners of his lips sardonically.

"I cannot imagine why I ever took on the job," he continued. "The money, though it doesn't amount to wealth, is useful, but you can pay too high a price for money. My new found leisure will enable me to get on with my handbook to Rome, which perhaps I may be allowed to mention incidentally is conceived on an entirely new plan, and also with my translation of Dante, which will bring in less money than prestige. I have reason to believe that my translation of the great medieval poet is better than Carey's. Not that that's saying much. I have always thought that Carey has been grossly over-praised. However, possibly you will say that all this is beside the point. I will only add that I'm not entirely bereft of the milk of human kindness. I feel a certain sympathetic sorrow for your lordship in the predicament in which Pr[illegible] thrown [illegible] your [illegible]."

"Why don't you verify your facts?" the baron at length asked in a voice terribly calm and quiet.

"Yes," said Mr. Robbington. "I was expecting that question. But suppose I had stopped to verify my facts and suppose some other paper had got hold of the same incomplete facts that I got hold of, my editor would have been wanting to know by cable what the deuce I meant by not getting in first, and what the deuce I thought I was in Rome for. Perhaps you don't know the side of the Courier editor that I know. I'm not stating my position very clearly. But your lordship has brains enough to catch my drift. And I should like to ask what the deuce your lordship means by coming to Rome without letting me know. I am the finest guide in the world to Rome. I could have put you wise on lots of things. Here you are, for instance, wasting your time on this hackneyed panorama while I should have taken you to see Hadrian's villa—a private country house—it would give you millionaires something to think about.

"You think you understand luxury, whereas you simply haven't begun to understand luxury. In the matter of luxury you are about 1500 years behind the times."

"Ye shall show it me, young man."

"Oh, no, I shan't. I'm no longer at your beck and call. And I'll tell you another thing since we're talking. You make a fuss about verifying facts. But the Courier doesn't want its facts verified. It never prints facts, save by accident. I except the racing tips, which I admit are rather remarkable. Have you ever considered how humiliating it must be for a man of my tastes and ambitions to work for a sheet like the Courier? No, you haven't. Of course you haven't. I have the honor to wish your lordship good day."

Lord Furber stuck his hands into his pockets and approached Mr. Robbington, who involuntarily stepped backward.

"Say," said he. "Say, my friend. Do ye live in Rome from choice?"

"No," answered the journalist. "I live in Rome because it's cheap, and because I just happen to be in Rome and haven't the enterprise to leave it."

"Where should ye live if ye could choose?"

"What a foolish question! London, naturally. There's no other place."

"Well," said the baron, "Ye're the best highbrow and browbeater I've struck yet. I'll give ye a job in London—editor of the literary page of the Evening Mercury. Thousand a year. Start at once."

"Thanks," said Mr. Robbington, with a most expansive smile. "I'll take it. I think I could help you there. You might write and confirm. Good day."

He turned away and then came back.

"If there's anything I can do," he suggested in a relenting and benevolent voice, "to clear up this Vanguard mess I'll be glad to do it."

"We'll just let that alone and sit tight," said Lord Furber.

"I think you're very wise," said Mr. Robbington. "Let time do its healing work, my lord."

And he departed.

If I Were A Man

I WOULDN'T insist on expressing myself until I was quite sure I had something to express.

I wouldn't go around shouting about freedom and a man's right to vent his desires—and then fly into a towering rage if the girl I was with so much as fluttered an eyelash in the direction of another male.

I wouldn't dwell on the fact that my free and soaring spirit mustn't be fettered within set rules and boundaries, but my feelings couldn't be tormented or my goings and comings limited—and then feel injured if Sweetness broke a date with me or was 15 minutes late for an appointment.

I'd remember that self-expression works both ways, and if I'm entitled to it, so is everyone else, regardless of whether or not their particular manner of showing it fits in with my own personal convenience.

If I Were A Girl

I WOULDN'T expect a man to spend more on me than he could afford.

I wouldn't insist that he take me around in taxis if he were earning a subway salary. If he bought balcony instead of orchestra seats I wouldn't be insulted and tell him by my manner that I thought he was pretty cheap. Some girls act as if they're too good to sit in the balcony.

They ought to be grateful that they're taken to the theater at all, for a man doesn't have very much of his salary left when he finishes paying for two theater tickets.

I think girls ought to show a little consideration for a man. When he is trying to live within a moderate income they ought to encourage him and be satisfied with the best theater tickets or the best dinners he can afford instead of expecting him to blow a whole week's salary on one night's entertainment.

SUBTLE LINES SMART WOMEN LIKE

Individual smartness and Paris chic at an unbelievable saving many women have discovered is quite possible by making their clothes, which as illustrated in Style No. 2578 requires little effort and time. It has an air of youthfulness and grace. It features the new smoother, flatter effect of fulness in side tunics, which contribute a slightly dipping hemline, shirred to secure tight hipline, and long-waisted effect to lengthen the silhouette. The shirring appears again at each front shoulder of molded bodice with becoming Vionnet neckline. The swathed movement through waistline, which is created by clever cut, is simply shirred according to perforations, and falls into soft folds. Nothing could give better lines! It is a perfect costume for either miss or the woman with [illegible] designed in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. It is especially attractive made of one of these exquisite sheer printed velvets in scatter dots of grey on black background, for it will meet so many daytime requirements smartly. You'd also like it made of black [illegible] crepe satin with the reverse side of crepe used for the tunics, dull navy blue flat silk crepe with matching sheer velvet tunics and shoulder bow, [illegible] brown [illegible] crepe, sapphire blue sheer velvet, and black crepe Elizabeth. For the 36-inch size, 4½ yards of 40-inch material is sufficient. Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). [illegible]

THE HEART STORY OF A WOMAN'S AFFECTIONS

By ADELE GARRISON

Noel Gets a Lesson in Wooing from Madge

"MARY!" Noel Veritzen's voice was little more than a choked whisper as he put the question, and with a keen dread of what shock the next few minutes might bring him, I smothered my reluctance to tell him of the betrothal I had sanctioned but a few hours before.

If Georges and Mary should come into the room I did not believe the young artist could resist the temptation to announce the engagement to Noel. His gloating would not be boastful but real, and I told myself fiercely that I would not permit the sensitive boy facing me to undergo that ordeal without being prepared for it.

"Yes, Noel," I said softly but rapidly, "that is Mary's voice and Prince Georges is with her. Listen to me." I made the words emphatic. "There is something you must know before they come in. But you must not take it seriously. Mary found out yesterday—never mind how—that Prince Georges had asked [illegible] it was [illegible]—she [illegible] Georges and then [illegible] Isn't [illegible] like that?"

[illegible] his face and his eyes [illegible] "I tell you [illegible] yourself," I said. "They may come in here any second."

I halted [illegible] as I spoke of a voice outside the window—that of Prince Georges—questioning Mary's reason for not wishing to enter the restaurant. And even as Noel—obeying my behest—gathered strength from somewhere to draw a mask of composure over his agitated face, Mary's voice sounded again, this time [illegible].

"Georges dear, I know I'm an awful pest, but it really can't [illegible] go somewhere else. I—I—don't like—this place. I—I—can't stand it to—dine here."

"As you wish, of course, dearest." The young prince's voice was that of a tender, adoring lover, though I was [illegible] of annoyance [illegible] it. And then their footsteps retreated [illegible] the veranda, and in another minute [illegible] away.

It was not until then that Noel found [illegible] and the [illegible] in his eyes caught at my throat despite my annoyance at his helpless hopelessness concerning Mary.

"Did you hear her?" he asked miserably. "She said she—"

"Didn't like the place and couldn't stand it there," I repeated glibly as he stopped. "Yes, I heard her, and if you want proof of her caring for you instead of Prince Georges, you couldn't have a better one."

His eyes, big, bewildered, searched mine.

"I—I don't see," he stammered.

"You and she have been here together, haven't you?" I persisted ruthlessly, feeling a bit like a rival [illegible] "And the memory of that [illegible]—a somewhat—tender one?"

The red which dyed his face and neck was my answer, and I hurried on.

"Then don't you see why she can't stand it to dine here?" I persisted. "Memories are gnawing her too, and she can't bear to dine with another admirer in the same place."

His eyes lightened for a moment, then shadowed again.

"But that doesn't alter the fact that she's engaged to him," he said.

"And it depends upon you, of course, absolutely whether she goes on being engaged to him," I retorted.

He straightened himself, startled.

"What do you mean?" he asked.

"Simply this," I told him. "Mary just now is flattered by your engagement, and now that she has found out Georges' identity—she didn't know it when she accepted him—she is a bit dazzled by the thought of a possible throne—you know what glamour and moonshine a [illegible] girl's notions are. But she is so high spirited and he so masterful that the game [illegible] last many weeks—you see I speak confidently. The one thing for you to do is to assert yourself when that time comes and sweep her off her feet."

He stiffened involuntarily.

"I never have cared for the position of second violin," he said a bit frigidly.

"My dear boy," I said impatiently, "in Mary's orchestra you are not only the first violin but the 'cello, the trombone and the drum, only she doesn't quite realize it yet. Are you going to risk losing her and your happiness because of a bit of foolish pride?"

"No, oh! no," he answered. "Tell me what you wish me to do."

"For the present nothing save play the devoted lover to Princess Olina," I answered.

"But—" he stammered. "I don't understand. I thought you said I must not marry her?"

Sure Way to Stop Coughing

This Prescription Relieves Almost Instantly

Coughing is usually due to causes which patent medicines and cough syrups do not reach. However Thoxine, a famous doctor's prescription, relieves coughing with the very first swallow. Jubilee's Pardner

* * *

A Story of Humorous Boyhood Adventure

By JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

TODAY was Saturday. I let Jubilee [illegible] down and then I sat quite a while on the window in my shirt tail thinking about a lot of things but mostly about my five dollars and about Podgeen. If he was well I would like to hit him so hard the air would be full of his freckles, but you've got to be sorry when a fella is sick. I would be sorry even if the Last Bag of Tripe was sick. I might make out like I wasn't but I bet I would be. We all went down to take a look at Podgeen's house when I got done feeding my face and there wasn't any crape on the door yet. Nobody came out so we didn't see anyone we could ask how he was. If he should die I am going to be glad I done what I did, but if he gets well I am going to take my five dollars out of his hide. I wish he knew that. If he knowed I was waiting outside to peel five dollars worth of hide off of him I bet he would try harder to get well. Podgeen is a scrapper.

After we had left Podgeen's neighborhood we all went to Younlesses and cracked nuts and shelled them and the girls made some fudge and we stirred a lot of nuts into it, and Younless's mother said that me and Pebble are the best actors she ever saw. She said when we fell on the steps by the foot[lights] and then got up with our backs to the audience she thought she would pass out. Then she asked us about Podgeen, and when we told her we hadn't heard today she phoned the doctor's office and talked to him quite a while and she kept looking soberer and soberer all the time, and then she thanked the doctor and hung the thing on the [illegible] and turned around and said the Doctor says he is a very very sick little boy with double peonia and he has had an ambulance go for him and take him to the hospital and he is there and getting the best care that is possible, but no one knows yet what the outcome will be. So then when she had told us that she said she would call up the hospital, and when she done that the hospital told her he was doing as well as could be expected, and then she made a face and said that was what they always said at a hospital. She said she called up once and asked how Grover Cleveland was getting along and they told her he was doing as well as could be expected, and when she got done I asked her if Grover wasn't doing as well as could be expected, and then she [illegible] laughed and said, No, he was dead.

By that time our candy was cool enough for us to eat it so we ate it all. It was strong good.

It costs a thousand dollars more to equal CHRYSLER Performance in any other car

New Chrysler "65" 4-Door Sedan $1145

CHRYSLER engineers from the outset disregarded all other performance standards and all other design. They set themselves to establish definitely the most modern principles and fundamentals of engineering and to apply them in a brand new way.

The same processes which based the new Chrysler style on the canons of classic beauty worked step by step to provide performance unlike any other in the industry—founded on a new and fresh interpretation of the basic principles of engineering design.

It is because of this Chrysler plan and the achievement of this plan, that an entirely new motor car performance has been brought into being.

The extraordinary acceleration, smooth speed, ease of handling and control, compactness, comfort, durability and long life, together with the unusual safety and stamina which characterize Chrysler, have all been combined in a car whose qualities can only be approached by other cars costing hundreds, yes, even a thousand dollars more.

It is no wonder that Chrysler engineers, working with that singleness of idea and surety of approach to every problem, should create a product built as none was ever built before and better than any other.

New Chrysler "65"—Six body styles, $1040 to $1145. New Chrysler "75"—Nine body styles, $1535 to $2345. New Chrysler Imperial—Five custom body styles, $2675 to $3475. All prices f. o. b. factory.

[illegible] along behind their opponents [illegible] each quarter and landing [illegible] small end of the 19 to 7 [illegible] the Mt. Gilead basketball team [illegible] the dope by losing to Cardington [illegible] what was expected to be one [illegible] closest games of the Morrow [illegible] cage tournament, at Mt. Gilead last night.

[illegible] of the largest crowds in attendance at a basketball tournament [illegible] the high school gymnasium last night and many fans were turned away before the opening of the evening games.

The tournament opened yesterday afternoon with a game between the Mt. Gilead and Sparta girls' teams, which ended in the Mt. Gilead team copping the long end of the 18 to 7 score. The only other game played in the afternoon was between the Iberia and Chesterville boys which ended in a score of 30 to 3.

Friday's games were played on the Mt. Gilead gym floor and today the tournament opened at Cardington where the finals will be played off tonight. The Cardington girls, who drew a bye, are scheduled to meet the Mt. Gilead girls this afternoon and [illegible] Edison girls will play the Iberia team. Mt. Gilead and Cardington girls teams will clash while Cardington and Sparta and Edison and Iberia will be matched.

The Mt. Gilead boys failed to get away on the right foot and were unable to score any field goals until the last few minutes of the game. Richardson and Rhodeback each captured a field goal boosting the score [illegible] seven points. The local boys took [illegible] many shots as their opponents but failed to make the bell ring while Cardington seemed to have better [illegible]. Nevada Wins in Last 10 Seconds

Kuenzli, of Nevada, turned the tide in favor of his team in the last 10 seconds of play in the opening game of the Wyandot County basketball tournament at Upper Sandusky yesterday afternoon. The scoring was pretty evenly divided and until the last few breaths of play stood 15 to 14 in favor of Nevada's opponent, Salem.

Approximately 1000 fans, the largest crowd that ever packed the Y. M. C. A. gym for an athletic event, witnessed last night's fray, and the crowd yesterday afternoon was estimated at about 800.

While Marseilles was doped to win in their tilt with the Sycamore cagers the road was not so rosy and when the final gun was fired they were leading their opponents in the 20 to 17 score.

The McCutchensville-Harpster score stood 12-all until the last 15 seconds of play when Feichter, of Harpster, scored the winning goal which ended the game 15 to 13 in Harpster's favor.

The only girls' game of the tournament was the opener last night when the Wharton girls defeated the Marseilles quintet by a score of 25 to 13. The score stood 10 and 5 in the winner's favor at the end of the half.

The Eden-Wharton game was a give and take affair from start to finish and proved to be the best conflict of the day's program. At the close of the game the score stood 28 to 29 in favor of the Wharton boys.

Nevada played a second game on yesterday's schedule, defeating the Carey quintet by a score of 23 to 12 in one of the least exciting games of the program.

Pick Chatfield for Winner

With 12 straight games chalked up on the credit side and none on the losing side, the Chatfield high school basketball team is picked for a winner in the Crawford county cage tournament which opened at Bucyrus yesterday afternoon. Sulphur Springs, with a heavy winning percentage, also is touted in the winning class. Three cups will be awarded at the close of the tournament, which is attracting one of the largest crowds ever in attendance at a school event.

The tournament opened with the Whetstone and Tyro teams battling to a 25 to 12 finish in the former's favor and the Chatfield cagers defeated the Holmes-Liberty quintet by a score of 40 to 11. North Robinson took the big end of the 26 to 24 score in their game with Mt. Zion and Sulphur Springs romped away with the winning end of the lop-sided score of 37 to 3 in their game with Lykins. The Lykins team scored one field basket and a free throw in the last quarter of play. The Leesville team lost to New Washington by a score of 26 to 19 in the closing game of the afternoon.

The Whetstone-Chatfield game opened last night's session and Chatfield took the long end of the 20 to 11 score. Sulphur Springs defeated the North Robinson team by a score of 38 to 25 and the Mt. Zion quintet left Lykins tied to the post in the 32 to 11 score. The last game of the evening was between Holmes-Liberty and Leesville and ended in a score of 18 to 12 in favor of Holmes-Liberty.

Sulphur Springs and Tyro will meet at 1 o'clock this afternoon and the New Washington-North Robinson game will be followed by a game between Holmes-Liberty and the winner. Marsh and Daugherty, of Galion, are officials for the tournament.

MORROW COUNTY COUPLE UNITED

Galion Pastor Reads Service for Wedding of Miss Mildred Crock

MT GILEAD, Feb. 23—Miss Mildred M. Crock becomes the bride of Homer M. Harris this afternoon at four o'clock in the parsonage of the M. E. church, Galion, Reverend Robertson officiating.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris, who live near Sparta, where the couple will live for the present. They will take a honeymoon trip to Akron where they will remain a week visiting relatives.

The bride wore a blue flat crepe gown and was accompanied by her niece, Elizabeth Crock, of Akron. Howard Harris, twin brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Following the ceremony, the couple came to Mt. Gilead where a three-course dinner was served at the bride's home. The home was decorated with sweet peas and ferns. Those attending the dinner are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Harris and son Robert, of Akron; Howard Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Crock and daughter, Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Crock and son, Donald, and C. M. Price, all of Akron.

The bride has been employed as bookkeeper for the Clements Orr Construction company and the Mathews-Talmage Oil company for several years. The minister performing the ceremony is a cousin of the bridegroom.

FILES WILL

Prospect Residents Share in Distribution of Richwood Man's Estate

MARYSVILLE, Feb. 23—The will of Thomas Price, whose death occurred at his home in Richwood Jan. 4, 1929, has been probated in the Union county court. The document was witnessed by W. D. Cameron and Maude Maxwell, Richwood residents, and was drawn Oct. 5, 1927.

All the property, real, personal and mixed, according to the testator, is to become the property of his wife, Mrs. Alice Price. This includes furniture, books, pictures, which are to be hers for life, to use with her own discretion. If, at the time of her decease, there is anything left, each of the following will receive $500: Thomas Thompson, Delaware; Jennie Penry, Prospect; Margaret Thompson, Prospect, and Alice Turner, North Lewisburg.

If there is no monument erected now, he desired that a family stone like the one at the head of the grave of Timothy J. Williams, in the Claiborne cemetery, be erected.

All that is then left is to become the property of Margaret Dildine. If any of those named in the will attempt to contest it, they will thereby forfeit their share.

It is suggested that his wife, Alice Price, be appointed executrix of the estate without bond. In case of her death, Leo J. McCoy, Richwood, is to be appointed, according to the wishes of Mr. Price. Since Mrs. Price's death occurred in Richwood about a year ago, Mr. McCoy has been appointed administrator and the estate will be divided as stated.

Lima and Findlay Entries Win Honors in Community Eisteddfod at Kenton

KENTON, Feb. 23—Ada was selected for the holding of the 1930 Community Eisteddfod at the closing session of the annual music fest here Friday in which Lima and Findlay entries copped a major portion of the events.

More than 2000 persons attended the Eisteddfod in which Lima, Findlay, Ada, Kenton, Van Wert, Crestline, Fostoria and Venedocia participated.

Dr. Lewis Watkins of Philadelphia, adjudicated the contests while ex-Mayor Earl Rohn of Lima, served as conductor. General chairman of the meet was Owen Roberts, director of public school music. Harry Kaylor, attorney, was secretary and Prof. W. L. Sprouse, treasurer.

Lima entries won the soprano alto duet, church choir, ladies' trio, two alto solo, mixed quartet, piano solo, soprano solo and mixed chorus numbers, while Findlay took first in the tenor and bass duet, male quartet and baritone solo numbers.

Kenton entries won the tenor solo and piano solo numbers and Ada the ladies' chorus number. Venedocia's male chorus won in this division.

The huge armory auditorium was filled to capacity for the evening session, the officials declaring the attendance and enthusiasm excelling those of any previous meet. Winners of the numbers on the night program and comment of the adjudicator follows:

Tenor and bass duet, "Hunting Song," Findlay; ladies' chorus, "A Snow Legend," Ada, Mack Evans, director; piano solo, "Romance," Lima, represented by Alice Rosefeld; male quartet, "Swing-Along Alo," Findlay Amphions including Charles Ritter, H. M. Morgan, Arthur Grand and Maynard Ritter; male chorus, "O Peaceful Night," and "Song of the Western Men," Venedocia, directed by J. A. Breese; soprano solo, "Enchantment," Esther Shilling, Lima; baritone solo, "Gloria," Dale Gilliland, Findlay; mixed chorus, "Achieved is Thy Glorious Works," Lima Harmonic club, directed by Prof. Mikesell.

Truett Brown Sings

The mixed quartet number, "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way," was won by Lima represented by Mrs. Shultz, Miss Ellie Hunt, Mr. Chenay and Mr. Lynch. Miss Marjorie Sams, Kenton high school junior, won the piano solo number, "The Pines," and the alto solo number, "O Rest in the Lord," won Vera Rouseulp, of Lima, honors. The alto solo, "Homeland," was won by Mrs. A. K. Mowen, of Lima, and Truett Brown, Kenton entry, won the tenor solo number, "When Soft Winds Blow."

Lima's entry in the ladies' trio event, "The Close of Another Day," were declared winners, and the choir of the First Congregational Christian church won the church choir event in which four cities were entered. They sang "Blessed Are the Pure In Heart." The soprano-alto duet "Parting," was won by Lima.

KIRKPATRICK LOSES TO MORRAL SEXTET

Teams Are Named To Represent Section at Central Ohio Cage Tournament at Delaware Next Friday and Saturday

By KARL R. McELROY
Sports Editor The Star

K[illegible] year [illegible] supreme on the basket[illegible] Marion county, west [illegible] of the high school cage [illegible] are paraphrasing th[illegible] song as a result of the [illegible] B tournament held [illegible] m last night.

[illegible] mp and the Morral boy[illegible] the basketball [illegible] of [illegible] coming through with [illegible] over Waldo, Martel and [illegible] the annual inter-div[illegible]

[illegible] Camp boys are the top [illegible] while Waldo hold second [illegible] Morral boys are third and [illegible] close fourth. The Morral [illegible] the court champions of their [illegible] Kirkpatrick coming next in [illegible] team placing above fourth place will represent Marion county in the Class B district tournament opening at Delaware next Friday morning. Play for the girls stopped last night.

Hardly breathing space was available in S[illegible] and to[illegible] as the [illegible] teams fought it out for basketball supremacy. Everything wa[illegible] the overflow [illegible] more than 1,100 fans were packed into the hall in every likely spot and some [illegible] in spots not so likely. It was the largest crowd of the season.

Green Camp was easily the outstanding quintet of the tourney upholding its unblemished record established in the western division during the season.

It is difficult to name the best of the two girls sextets. Morral won by the way of the free throw route while Kirkpatrick excelled in basket shooting.

Porter Stars as Green Camp Wins Over Waldo Five, 30-19

[illegible] of the greatest players ever [illegible] out in Marion county [illegible] some say he is greatest. Porter [illegible] and faked through the [illegible] defense last night to give [illegible] Camp its decisive 30 to 19 victory over Waldo in the major battle [illegible] Class B tournament.

He scored 14 points from five buckets and four fouls to lead all the [illegible] of the tourney. C. Strine of [illegible] his team with eight points.

[illegible] was a battle between [illegible] stars with Strine playing [illegible] Porter at the pivot position [illegible] of the game.

The victory was not as one sided as [illegible] score indicates. Waldo put up a [illegible] battle in the first half before Porter got to hitting the loop with any degree of regularity. At the first [illegible] Green Camp was trailing [illegible] Waldo out in front, 10 to [illegible] by Gibson and Porter tied the score at 10 all with a minute and a half left in the second frame. Smith broke the tie with a bucket and Long finished the counting for the period with a foul putting the victors out in front three points while Waldo failed to score.

Waldo spent its strength in that first quarter and was unable to offer much resistance in the third period. Porter got his start in this session and Green Camp led 22 to 1[illegible] as the final period got under way.

Waldo showed a little more scoring power in the last period counting six points but failed to gain ground on Coach Lovett's Big Blue. The victors walked off with eight points before the period ended.

Fouls Fatal to Kirkpatrick Girls as Morral Wins, 19-18

He who makes a big portion of his [illegible] shots quite often wins basket games. Although the he in this [illegible] happened to be a she it still is true and today Morral girls are [illegible] of weaker sex cagers having [illegible] to victory along a path beset [illegible] golden opportunities in the form [illegible] throw.

[illegible] ims of this attack from the foul [illegible] were the Kirkpatrick girls who [illegible] sed out of the championship [illegible] after forcing the contest [illegible] three minute overtime session.

Morral forwards contributed [illegible] buckets to the final count [illegible] included three field goals. The [illegible] patrick girls failed to cage a [illegible] free shot but went out after [illegible] counters chalking up nin[illegible]

Lemke was the outstanding player [illegible] game. She scored five baskets [illegible] 10 points. Warner scored six [illegible] goals while Heller counted four [illegible] along with two buckets.

Morral led until the end of the third [illegible] Kirkpatrick forged ahead 1[illegible] to 10. Heller and Warner put Morral into the lead in the final period but Clutter and Lemke worked through with the buckets that tied the score at 16 all as th[illegible] period ended.

Things looked mighty good for Kirkpatrick when the overtime session opened with Lemke [illegible]. However the joy of the eastern [illegible] county fans was short lived when Harmon counted her first field goal or the game to tie the score. A foul on Lemke gave Warner a chance to score. With the game in the [illegible] [illegible] the ball through the loop for th[illegible] winning point.

Morral Beats Martel, 22-19, For Right To Enter Tourney

CONSISTENT scoring by Heller, Cochran and Brown gave the [illegible] boys the right to be the third [illegible] team to represent Marion county in the Central district tournament [illegible] they defeated Martel, 22 to 19 [illegible]

It was a close game throughout [illegible] the lead changing often. Martel [illegible] 6 to 5 at the first quarter and [illegible] 13 to 10 when the half rolled around. Morral maintained a one-point advantage as the three-quarters mark was passed. After going into the lead as the final period started Martel was held scoreless while Morral obtained four counters.

Hershner, Martel forward, was the big [illegible] man of the game getting 12 counters from six buckets. Heller and Brown each scored seven points while Cochran was a close second with six.

All-Star Tournament, N. C. O. League Teams Are Named

By KARL R. McELROY

PICKING the All Star basketball teams is a very difficult proposition in view of the fact one has but limited chances of personally observing players in action more than once during the season.

Selection of the representative Marion county team cannot be considered a difficult task as the four teams entered in the tourney [illegible] from which the All-Star five was named each has its stars. But in the North Central Ohio League things appear in a different light. So many upsets occurred during the year that one had great difficulty in keeping tab of the leading players.

• • •

IN naming the All-Star teams this year I have attempted to select a list of all-around men who are equally as good on the offense as on the defense. Sportsmanship and clean playing also entered into the selection.

There is no doubt concerning the outstanding star to place on the Marion county select five. Porter landed the [illegible] with no opposition. The Green Camp star has won practically all his team's games this season.

C. Strine of Waldo and Hershner of Martel are my first choices for the forward, both players being the outstanding [illegible] on their respective team.

• • •

THE guard [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Gibson and Rush [illegible]

[illegible] the second squad [illegible] of Morral and Long [illegible] Camp are at the forwards. Brown of Morral at center and [illegible] of Waldo and Dall [illegible]

• • •

FOUR [illegible] in the North Central Ohio [illegible] All-Star league team. Bucyrus led with Monnette and Lerch at the forwards. Ashland and Mansfield failed to place and the other three schools landed one each.

In my estimation Monnette and Lerch are two of the classiest forwards in the league. They [illegible]

GOOD [illegible] this [illegible] Shreffler [illegible] for the position. It was his scoring that won over Harding and Mansfield after his team had lost its opening three games.

Outstanding among the guards of the league are McAninch of Harding and Mackey of Galion. Both men have been important cogs around which their teams [illegible]

Members of the second squad are Callender, Galion and Sharp, Mansfield, forwards; Kirkpatrick, Ashland, center; Luck, Ashland and Seltzer, Galion, guard.

MANSFIELD SEASON ENDS IN CELLAR AS SHELBY WINS GAME

Orangemen Fail To Hold Monnette, Lerch in Championship Tilt

By BOB ELLIOTT
Sports Staff The Star

CELLAR and attic championships in the North Central Ohio Basketball League were decided last night when Bucyrus copped the latter honor by defeating Galion at Galion by a 31 to 20 score, while the basement berth went to Mansfield when it dropped a hard-fought 32 to 20 battle at Shelby.

Monnette and Lerch, Bucyrus forwards, led their team to victory at Galion by scoring 19 and 10 points respectively. Mackey, Galion's high scoring guard, was kept under strict surveillance by the Red and White defense and failed to do anything in an offensive way. Callender led the losers activities with 10 counters.

A rally in the final four minutes by the home team brought the score up to within four points of the champs but not close enough.

Bucyrus led at all four quarters of the game, the score being 7 to 6 at the end of the initial period. Monnette and his cohorts stepped out in the second frame on an offensive spurt that [illegible] won the game. At the end of the half the score stood 21 to 1[illegible] while at the three-quarter way mark it was 29 to 21.

Hundreds were turned away at the game while a crowd of 600 packed the senior high gym to the rafters to witness the demise of the home five.

In a preliminary game the Galion Junior high team defeated the Bucyrus freshies by a 14 to 10 count.

Mansfield continued its losing ways by finishing on the short end of a 32 to 20 score in the Shelby high gym. The game which was one of the roughest in the history of N. C. O. basketball according to those present was the second to be won by Shelby since its entrance into the loop about three years ago. Their first victory came one week ago last night over the Red and Black from Harding.

Mansfield started things with a rush in the first period leading 15 to 5 at the end of the first quarter. The first five minutes of the game was spent by the Shelby cagers in diligently trying to find out what all the excitement was about. The second period saw them snap out of their lethargic game and at the half way mark they were only one point behind 17 to 18.

Shelby outscored the visitors one point in the third period to tie the game up 22-all. The final quarter witnessed the collapse of a perfectly good basketball team. Sharp and about two other Mansfield players were busily engaged in trying to keep down the scoring antics of Mr. Shreffler, the Shelby center, and failed to observe a certain forward by the name of Mellick who ran wild in the final few minutes to bring home the bacon.

Shreffler clinched the all-league

Local Teams Ready For Games Tonight

HARDING WILL END PRE-TOURNEY SKED IN DELAWARE GYM

Red and Black Seeking Revenge for 21 to 20 Defeat on Local Court

BALDY COMPTON'S Red and Black basketeers will make their final scheduled appearance prior to the district tournament when the [illegible] to the Delaware high tonight on [illegible] ward Gym at Delaware. The locals will make a grand [illegible] close a poor season [illegible] will [illegible] their [illegible] rival in [illegible] battle. Harding will also be battling to avenge the 21 to 20 defeat that was handed them by the Delaware quintet earlier in the season on the Star court here.

Odds on the game will be about even with the Harding five being given the edge if any is given. The Red and Black defense has grown better with each game and reached the present peak of its efficiency when it held the high powered Zanesville machine to a 2[illegible] to [illegible] win at Zanesville last week. The Delaware team has nothing notable to show all season except the one point victory over the local squad. Marysville and Bexley have both defeated the college town quintet early this season.

Compton is planning on starting the same lineup that has been playing for the local colors for the past few games. Corrett and Lush [illegible] at the [illegible] Gillig, [illegible] and [illegible] Kellar at the guards. Delaware will [illegible] on Turley at forward and Oller [illegible] guard to carry most of the offensive work. Knight will probably act as Turley's running mate with Elotz at the other guard.

Harding is expected to keep an eagle eye on Mr. Oller who caused them so much embarrassment during the earlier encounter in Marion. Turley will also bear a great deal of watching by the local defense. Compton will more than likely try out plays for the tournament that will be held on the same floor one week later.

DROPS 3 PLAYERS

Infraction of Training Rules Alleged by Miami Coach

OXFORD, Feb 23—Three members of the Miami university varsity basketball team all seniors have been dropped from the team by Coach Tillotson for alleged infraction of training rules and insubordination, it was learned here today.

Paul Taylor, Oxford, twice all-Buckeye forward and Weldon Canfield, Detroit sub center, were dropped because of alleged breaking of training rules, and Harry Richardson, Cleveland, all-Buckeye center, was said to have been insubordinate.

The whole Miami cage team must now be revamped for the remaining two games on the schedule with Wittenberg and Cincinnati.

159 ENTRIES RECEIVED FOR KENTUCKY DERBY

LOUISVILLE, Ky, Feb 2[illegible]—Nominations to the $50,000 annual Kentucky derby, to be run at Churchill Downs on Saturday, May 18, were announced today by Col. M. J. Winn, president of the American Turf association and executive director of Churchill Downs. A total of 159 entries were received for the fifty-fifth running of the derby.

ROCHESTER SETS PACE

CLEVELAND, Feb. 23—Rochester continued to set the pace in the American professional basketball league this week, taking a 29-to-26 thriller from Brooklyn, at Rochester, last night. Cleveland's Rosenblums, champions of the first half season, won, 26 to 21, from Ft. Wayne, their most formidable rivals in the early season. Trenton won, 24 to 20, from the Chicago Bruins who, when they're good are very, very good and when they're bad are not so good.

PAULINO SHOWS HE'S TOUGH BABY, BEATS "KAYO" CHRISTNER

Akron Rubber Man Flounders Badly After First Three Rounds

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Marion Star Staff Writer

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb 2[illegible]—An array of travelers on [illegible] much and the [illegible] thing that has to do with prize fights is that this is the place where a fight fan can see one as old K. O. Christner, the man with the rubber [illegible] and non-shatterable wind shield discovered last night.

Old Kayo finished a unanimous second to Paulino, the prominent human being, through 10 barroom rounds last night and he did it with his little boy window, the latter deftly [illegible] a body attack so vindictive that the 20,000 witnesses should red in [illegible]

Old Kayo didn't shudder. He didn't even shake. He simply spent the better part of 10 rounds proving what we already knew, that rubber will bounce but it won't break.

As a result Paulino remained a qualified candidate for the heavyweight championship which he always has been and Christner remained what he was—a very rough person with the heart of a pit bulldog and the soul of a stevedore. He never really was in the heavyweight title [illegible] even after he stopped Knute Hansen and now he is definitely out like the family wash of a Monday morning. The lad wants to fight but he really doesn't know how.

Flounders Badly

Somehow he contrived to nail Jack Sharkey with a lot of right hands here the first time out but last night he floundered badly after stealing the show from Paulino in the first three rounds.

He simply couldn't figure any way of dropping that long right on a jaw that was completely surrounded by elbows and while he was trying to solve the problem Paulino was going to the basement sicking up the old furnace with shovelsfull of gloves. About the body Christner had no more protection than the gambling house that won't see the gendarmes.

As I say the affair proved only what we already knew, i.e., that Paulino belongs and Christner doesn't. The Basque may be pretty much of a mugg fighter but you can name the men on your index finger who can guarantee to lick him. His toughness alone will get him by with the Sharkeys and Stribblings of this game and his style of fighting is such that it can and often does make the best of them look silly. It isn't surprising, therefore, that a crude fighter like Christner was non-plussed by the demands of the occasion.

STATE WALLOPED

Purdue Holds Second Place in Big Ten with Victory

COLUMBUS, Feb 23—Purdue university holds sole claim to second place in the Western conference basketball race today, after giving Ohio State a 29-to-23 drubbing here last night.

Ohio State after fighting the full 40 minutes of the one-sided game, now shares fifth place with Northwestern.

The Boilermakers, with an attack led by "Stretch" Murphy, the leading scorer of the Big Ten, outclassed the Buckeyes more than the score indicates, scoring almost at will, and keeping the ball in their possession a greater part of the time.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At New York—Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish heavyweight, won decision over K. O. Christner, of Akron, Ohio (10).

At San Francisco—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, won decision over Jack Willis, of San Antonio, Tex (10). Walker's title was not at stake.

BISHOPS TROUNCE LUTHERANS, 37 TO 31

Cincinnati Also Wins from Ohio Cagers, 15 Buckeye Teams Play Tonight

Ohio Wesleyan and Cincinnati, leader of the Buckeye Intercollegiate athletic association basketball race retained their lead today after victories over Wittenberg and Ohio last night in the most important games of the week-end in Ohio basketball circles.

Although three men were ruled off the court by the referee the Bishops did not have great difficulty in downing the fighting Lutherans 37 to 31. Thomas and Seigenthaler as usual copped the scoring honors for the winners. Joe Keyser, Wittenberg, one of the leading scorers of the association was shut out with only a single basket after his name.

Cincinnati won its game over Ohio 38 to 36 in the late 10 seconds of the game when Early, star Bearcat forward, dropped in a long one. Brammer, Ohio's center, missed a chance for a foul just before Early tucked in the game for Cincinnati.

In Ohio conference circles Baldwin Wallace staged a come-back and walloped Case 40 to 33.

Heidelberg downed Hiram in the other conference tilt last night 41 to 21 to climb one more step up the Ohio conference ladder while Hiram went down another one.

Tonight fans will see 15 Ohio college teams go into action in eight games the results of which will decide more definitely the standings in the conference races.

YANKEES LEAVE TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Feb 23—The advance guard of the New York Yankees starts tonight for training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. The delegation leaving here consists of Lou Gehrig, Leo Durocher, Benny Bengough and Pitcher Roy Sherrid. George Burns, former Cleveland first baseman, will be picked up at Philadelphia. Twenty-five Yanks are due in camp Monday.

FAST HOLY ANGEL COURT SQUAD PLAYS MARION IRISH HERE

Stiff Quintet Booked for Homecoming Game of St Mary's

A COLORFUL event marked the renewal of athletics in St Mary's high school after passing through two seasons without a representative cage team will be held in Star auditorium tonight when the local fighting Irish tangle with the Holy Angels of Sidney in the homecoming game.

The contest promises to be one of the outstanding on the Saints cage schedule this season. The Sidney team comes here with a record of nine wins in 13 starts. It has scored 10[illegible] points more than its opponents and has averaged 20½ points in each game this season.

It will be the next to the last game for the St Mary's five before the Class B tournaments of the central district at Delaware next Friday and Saturday. One game will be played by the locals next week.

A preliminary game featuring the alumni of the school will precede the main battle. It will start at 7:00 o'clock.

LEWIS THROWS GARDINI

At New York — Ed (Strangler) Lewis threw Renato Gardini of Italy in 15:30. Charlie Strack of Oklahoma won decision over George Walker of Canada (30 min.)

Money Flows Freely In Stock Market This Week

SESSIONS FEATURED BY STRONG ADVANCES

Many Stocks More Than Recover Loss of Preceding Week

BULLS TAKE HONORS

Reports of Industrial, Financial Events During Week Uniformly Favorable

BY W. S. COUSINS
Marion Star Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—The four sessions of the stock market this week featured by a strong and persistent advance in stock prices which in many cases more than recovered the loss of the preceding week. In the face of an unsettled money market, with the fear of an advance in the reserve bank rediscount rates hanging over it, money flowed freely into the financial district, the bears put up an indifferent struggle and the bulls carried off the honors in the steel, copper and other important sections of the market.

The rush of outside funds to the stock market this week went a long distance to show that the business interests of the country were not suffering from lack of money for legitimate purposes. The reserve banks are apparently satisfied to leave the rediscount rate at 5 and 4½ per cent for the time being, though the rate of bankers acceptances has been advanced in all sections of the country.

Declines $90,000,000

The volume of brokers' loans declined $90,000,000 for the week, instead of the 200 to 300 millions which was forecast in the financial district, and it is evident that further measures must be taken to squeeze a good volume of speculative borrowing from the banks. Either that or an admission that the reserve board is unable to make good on its repeated warnings and threats to cut off the banks' rediscount privileges from the banks which feed the stock market with money. It is an interesting contest, and may develop into an epoch-making controversy before the end of the season.

Reports of industrial and financial happenings during the week were uniformly favorable. Over production of crude oil is causing some concern in the petroleum industry, but a strong and representative committee of the American Petroleum Institute will tackle this problem vigorously, in order to bring production and consumption closer together. Within the last few years the annual requirements of the country for gasoline and fuel oil have increased to about a billion barrels, making much heavier demands on the production and a refining end of the industry.

Steel Reflects Demands

Increasing call for railroad, automobile and construction steel is reflected in the expansion of operations and production of the steel industry, and it is here that the most favorable indications of general prosperity originate at this time Steel is such an important basic industry that practically all departments of trade and manufacturing take their cue from the records of this representative activity.

With the steel mills humming, automobile manufacturing at the peak, construction only moderately below last year's record and the farming districts enjoying the best prosperity since the end of the war, there is reason to confidently count on a "good year" for all branches of domestic business in 1929.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

With the appearance of spring chickens on the market Marion housewives had little trouble in planning their Sunday dinners for Sunday. However, the price of the frys kept them in the luxury class These "youngsters", which were raised in Marion county, were retailing at 51 cents per pound

Along with the spring chickens were strawberries for those who care to "rush the season" just a trifle. This luxury was selling at 65 cents a quart.

The remainder of the markets, meat, vegetables and fruit, closed the week comparatively quiet, no changes being registered on the final selling day.

AIR JOY RIDERS BECOME BEST REGULAR PATRONS

CHICAGO—Air passengers who take their first trip as joy riders become steady patrons, according to a survey of the American Air Transport association.

Sixty per cent of the passengers of the various lines in the country at the outset were joy riders and 40 per cent were those who traveled by plane to save time, the association estimates. At present the situation is reversed with 75 per cent of passengers flying to save time and the other 25 per cent thrill seekers.

TOKIO WILL BUILD BIG CITY SLAUGHTER HOUSE

TOKIO—To supply citizens with better and cheaper meat, the Tokio municipality will build a large slaughterhouse on reclaimed land. The proposed slaughterhouse will be the largest in the Orient.

The new butchery will be equipped in the most advanced style after these in Chicago. Besides slaughtering equipment, cattle and meat markets will be established in the compounds. The plant will cost $750,000.

Having a length of 300 feet, the longest lift span in the world has been placed in operation in a bridge near Newport News, Va.

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD., Feb. 22—There is little discussion in this much photographed and over publicized film metropolis about anything but sounds. And it's all done in whispers.

Little groups of film players gather on the corners of the glittering boulevard that shimmers through the heart of make-believe-land, and talk about talking pictures. There are sound discourses, often in husky voices by men who have faced the camera without fear but who tremble in trepidation when the "mike" is mentioned. For the voice of the "talkie" is loud in the land.

Synchronization, the new semi-official word of cinemaland, is a seven dollar word that makes the bravest studio chaser blanche Queer persons with queer whiskers, men of unusual posture, faces that only a mother could love—types, they are called—wonder about the next meal ticket. They don't know how to talk, although many of them are polyglottic, in a way. But they don't speak any one language with purity and authority. They are inexpressibly worried.

Some of the feature players also are worried. But they have what the press agents call "long term' contract. They should worry. It's for the producers to "gabibble." And they do They want to keep the box-office stars in the talkies and are employing verbal chaperons to overhaul the accent of overseas stars

• • •

The situation is embarrassing.

Let's take the case of Vilma Banky. Three years ago she came to California without a single English word in her suitcase. There was a count or something chasing her round the world. He yelled at her from the Mexican border where he was detained, waving a marriage license, the Banky was said to have forgotten in her haste to get into the celluloid racket. Maybe that was all hokum, dished up by the press agent.

Now, according to the p. a., Vilma is "talking in a sound picture as clearly as an American girl could do." Her director, Alfred Santell, continues: "Naturally she was nervous at first—(now who could be nervous in front of the Oxford English dictionary?)—"and did not remember all the rules of English grammar

VILMA BANKY

But we employed Nance O'Neil, flower of stage technique, who trained Miss Banky for weeks on pronunciation."

Let us now continue the lessons of first word, then short sentences and "finally a complete playette."

Our stars must shine even when they sputter.

• • •

Universal announces that a projection room full theater size for talking pictures is under construction. To gauge properly the effect of players' voices the screen and loud speakers will be the same distance as in an average theater, instead of close to the audience as in the former type of projection room. The company also is erecting a building for editing sound pictures.

G T A C PAYMENT PLAN G
General Tire Acceptance Corporation

The G-T-A-C credit system eliminates high interest and extra charges and permits taking advantage of a reputable dealer's fair prices and dependable service.

MODERN speed and sudden stops call for tire treads capable of gripping and holding without fail This grinding wear is tough on the tire not built to with stand it. It means tricky going for cars with tires worn prematurely "bald". The season-after-season non-skid efficiency of General's tough pure-rubber tread, and the reserve power within the tire to bear the shocks of all emergencies is the greatest insurance to be had—a long-term protection policy.

There's One Busy Woman

Mrs Mosquito Active Raising Young, Will Says After Reading Statistics Regarding Productivity, Birth Control Measures Needed

By WILL ROGERS

BIRTH CONTROL LITERATURE
Copyright by McNaught Syndicate, Inc, N Y

Literature for the female mosquito is needed

WELL, all I know is just what I read in the papers We are always reading statistics and figures Half of America do nothing but prepare Propaganda for the other half to read Insurance Companies have em figure out the very day you will die (In fact they wont insure till they have it investigated and find out) Then you like a Sucker go bet them you will live longer than that The Government can tell you how much wheat is going to be raised next year

Everything is figured out down to a Gnats tooth according to some kind of statistics Course nobody knows if the figures are right or not, you have no way of checking up on em But just the other day a fellow in Atlantic City New Jersey come through with some statistics that really ought to set us all thinking It wasnt one of those 'The average working girl makes $33 a week spends $10 for board $12 for silk stockings and the rest for lip sticks

Life for Insects

This was Professor Thomas J Headlee Dr Professor and Chief 'Entomologist ' (That word will stop you ignorant ones But we got a fifty fifty break I dont know what it means either) Well he delivered this address at a Convention of The New Jersey Exterminators Association duly assembled in the very heart of the Mosquito belt

So I gather from that that an Entomologist is a man that has devoted his life to a study that must include this Jersey product He has either given his life's work for or against the Mosquito Now its not only what this fellow said that is of such vital interest to all of us Its the surprise that New Jersey had such an organization called, The New Jersey Mosquito Exterminators Inc ' Anyone who has ever visited that State could not possibly understand how there could be an organization devoted to the annihilation of those Komical little rascals And if they have got such a Society what have they been doing? Where have they been exterminating and when?

185 Billion Offspring

But you see thats what they been doing is holding dinners All you do in America nowadays is get a name for some kind of an Organization then you start holding dinners An Organization without a dinner is just impossible Now the only Mosquitoes exterminated was at the dinner Well during the scratching and slapping and singing of the Mosquitoes at this Dinner Mr Headlee read off the following authorative statistics

The normal productivity of one lone Female house Mosquito in one year is 1 951 000 000 offspring

Now you statistic hounds get that (There is four sets of those three figures) So according to my remembrance of Rays elementary arithmatic that runs us up into the billions So that first [illegible] you see there aint nothing but billions Now just wait and let that soak in awhile [illegible] billions of offsprings

You Mothers that think you have done something for your race when you have brought into the World two to 8 or 10 young Hyenas you certainly cant boast after reading what the female Mosquito has done to leave her imprint on the annals of humanity Now I dont know what was done at the dinner about it Perhaps they all signed a pledge to all go out and during the coming year to exterminate as early in the season as possible one Female Mosquito each, lessening the yearly yield by 138 billion

Males Are Nice

Now wait a minute You aint heard nothing yet Only half of these or 70 037 500 000 should be counted as Pests for they are the active, buzzing, biting and egg laying females The others are mere Males which do not bite and are harmless These figures which are based on the known rate of Mosquito reproduction and which disregard infantile mortality indicate the urgent need for control measures that begin early in the season '

Now Women what have you got to say for yourselves? Get that The Males are harmless they dont bite buzz or lay eggs Thats great It makes me proud I am a male That fellow Kipling had it right when he wrote (Or maybe it was Shakespeare or Lady Astor or somebody over there) "The Female of the Specie is more deadly than the Male Women denied it then and there was a great mess raised about it But this Jersey entomoligist has finally got the dope on em

Exterminate Female Only

Now we are getting down to the Nubbin or main part and like all Speakers he didnt explain that. It is this He told you to 'Go out and exterminate a Female as early in life as possible ' But he didnt tell you how to distinguish the female from the Male You are liable to go out with the best intentions in the World and kill one and what might it turn out to be but an innocent male A poor Male Mosquito that had never done a soul wrong in its life It had never sung to you it had never bit you it had never laid eggs on you In fact it had gone through life acting in a gentlemanly way and here it is killed. Why? Because you havent been taught to distinguish the sex He has given up his life this poor Mosquito has just as a Martyr to the ignorance of the human race

What we need is Literature of two kinds One to teach us to readily realize the sex and the other is Pamphlets for the female mosquitoes on Birth Control Show them that they are not only doing their part but they are going over their quota Teach them that the days of the big families in Mosquitoes are past that what we want is Fewer and Better Mosquitoes ' [illegible] and [illegible] em to move out of Jersey and to Fifth and Park Avenue New York and let em see there that being prolific in offsprings is only for the Lower Classes

Educate Em

Dont try to kill off the female Educate em up to modern ways They are not so crazy about laying eggs its just because they think its their duty to do it Course the whole thing is kinder mysterious to me I dont see how the female can be the one that lays all the eggs raise all the young does all the biting and still has time to sing Now some of these must be kinder [illegible] Not the [illegible] cant bite and sing at the same time We know that from experience They generally dont start singing about it till the biting is over then they crow about it If the biting hasent been [illegible] she wont sing I have noticed that

Now when do they find time to raise all these children? There must be times when they cant be singing or biting Now the way this Entomologist has left us now about the only way we have left open to do is wait for a Mosquito till he bites you and then destroy him (I mean her) In other words if he bites you he is a her and if he sings he is a her Watch him and see if he lays an egg then its a Her

But if he just sits around all day and dont do anything why about the only conclusion we can come to is that it is a HE Dont kill him he does no harm he just sits and revels in the accomplishments of his Wife So when you find a Male the best thing to do is just sit there and wait till his Wife comes between bites

How does the Male live? Thats what they are going to take up at the next dinner

"SHIMMYING" TROLLEY PUZZLES TRACTION MEN

KANSAS CITY, Mo — Engineers from a street car factory in Ohio are here working on a new type of car which insists on doing the "shimmy"

In addition to shaking up the passengers the conveyance swayed right and left in rhythm [illegible] like [illegible] in the jazz

The patience of local mechanics became nettled The factory sent out a couple of engineers to locate the trouble They are having no easy job

1 Silent timing chain—For quiet, smooth operation and long life, an adjustable silent timing chain drives the camshaft and auxiliary shaft of the new Superior Whippet.
2 Full force-feed lubrication—The heavy, rugged crankshaft of the new Superior Whippet is drilled for full force-feed lubrication
3 Aluminum alloy invar steel strut pistons—This design prevents piston distortion and assures faster pick-up, greater speed and power, smoother operation and longer life.
4 Big four-wheel brakes—Mechanical type brakes, positive and quick-acting, afford maximum driving safety.
5 Snubbers and oversize balloon tires—These features, together with increased wheelbase and longer springs both front and rear, give exceptional riding comfort.
6 Mono-control windshield—The windshield can be quickly and easily wound open or shut with one hand, even while the car is running.
7 "Finger-Tip Control"—A single button, in the center of the steering wheel, starts the motor, operates the lights and sounds the horn Aside from its great convenience, this fundamental improvement is also an important safety factor, as you can keep your foot always on the brake when starting or re-starting on a hill.
